The global pandemic's start produced a change that fundamentally altered the way we think about how we operate. For a sizeable portion of the working population worldwide, the typical 9–5 or 10–6 with a one-and-a-half-hour commute was no longer the norm. Over the course of this violent period in human history, the ideas of how we should work, and for that matter, where we should work, radically changed. It was no longer safe to just have employees travel and cluster into a centred office area to conduct their work.

Many employees and companies are drawn to the hybrid work model in particular as they get ready to return to the workplace in one way or another.
