Barbuda Reconnaissance:

Black Ranching Frontiers Andrew Sluyter, 2012-10-30 DIV In this groundbreaking book Andrew Sluyter demonstrates for the first time that Africans played significant creative roles in establishing open range cattle ranching in the Americas In so doing he provides a new way of looking at and studying the history of land labor property and commerce in the Atlantic world div DIV Sluyter shows that Africans ideas and creativity helped to establish a production system so fundamental to the environmental and social relations of the American colonies that the consequences persist to the present He examines various methods of cattle production compares these methods to those used in Europe and the Americas and traces the networks of actors that linked that Atlantic world The use of archival documents material culture items and ecological relationships between landscape elements make this book a methodologically and substantively original contribution to Atlantic African American and agricultural history div Paleoshorelines and Prehistory Lucille Lewis Johnson, 1991-11-12 Archaeologists have always been concerned with the relationship between the sites they study and the environments in which the sites are found Since the end of the Pleistocene Era sea levels have risen at least 120 meters a factor that has considerable effect on many archaeological sites Paleoshorelines and Prehistory An Investigation of Method discusses the various processes that may affect coastal sites or inland sites on shallow coastal plains and presents a variety of methods that have been developed to reconstruct the shoreline at the time the sites were occupied The focus of the chapters is on processes affecting coastal sites in the Americas although the methods discussed are applicable to archaeologists worldwide The book will also guide archaeologists in designing surveys to discover site locations whether these are now inland or underwater All archaeologists and students in archaeology and geology will find a tremendous wealth of useful information in this remarkable volume Technical Series Bulletin United States. Agency for International Development. Office of Agriculture, 1975 Geological Survey Bulletin , 1949 From Immigrants to Ethnic Minority Lorna Chessum, 2017-07-05 While there is an extensive sociological literature concerning race relations racial discrimination and the process of migration this has tended to focus on snapshots at a given moment in time There are few historical accounts of the development of black communities in Britain This book will be the first social history of a black community in modern times which attempts to weave many aspects of life together to give a more comprehensive understanding of the lives of black people in Britain The book will address the way peoples lives are constructed through racialized identities and how African Caribbean people in Leicester relate to the wider community It provides an important contribution to the debate concerning the social class profile of different ethnic groups The work is gendered throughout and discusses the different nature of the experiences of men and women The 1991 census shows Leicester to have the highest proportion of ethnic minority residents of any city outside London however compared to other cities with black and Asian communities it has received little attention from academics The present study charts the development of Leicester s African Caribbean community from its origins in the Second World War to 1981 and its changing construction from immigrants to ethnic minority
