RESUMO

Os problemas a serem enfrentados nas escolas não estão circunscritos apenas às questões ligadas à aprendizagem, mas a tudo que possa legitimar a educação formal. As instituições de educação básica devem estar abertas para promover reflexões e discussões sobre a diversidade humana e o respeito às diferenças, incluindo a orientação sexual. Para que o professor desenvolva na escola uma prática educativa voltada para os valores democráticos e para a promoção do diálogo, rejeitando qualquer tipo de discriminação, é necessário que ele seja instrumentalizado em sua formação inicial. Nessa perspectiva, o presente trabalho objetiva trazer algumas reflexões acerca do papel do professor da educação básica e da disciplina de Geografia como agentes promotores de uma educação voltada para a cidadania e para o respeito à diversidade humana, como também expor os resultados da pesquisa realizada pelos alunos do curso de Geografia Licenciatura da Universidade Federal de Alagoas, na disciplina de Estágio Supervisionado II. A pesquisa aqui relatada foi realizada com os professores do Ensino Médio da escola campo de estágio, localizada na cidade de Maceió/AL e caracterizou-se por ser um estudo de natureza qualitativa, que utilizou como instrumento de recolha de dados o questionário. O levantamento realizado revelou, entre outros resultados, que os professores, apesar de perceberem a existência de preconceito na escola, por parte dos alunos, principalmente ligado à orientação sexual, apresentam dificuldades de debater e promover ações com os discentes que tratem das questões ligadas à discriminação e ao preconceito na escola.

Palavras-chave: Formação dos professores, Orientação sexual, Preconceito, Geografia.
