Basic A Journal For Building A Strong Involving Community:

Making a Place for Community Thad Williamson, David Imbroscio, Gar Alperovitz, 2014-06-03 When pundits refer to the death of community they are speaking of a number of social ills which include but are not limited to the general increase in isolation and cynicism of our citizens widespread concerns about declining political participation and membership in civic organizations and periodic outbursts of small town violence Making a Place for Community argues that this death of community is being caused by contemporary policies that if not changed will continue to foster the decline of community Increased capital flow between nations is not at the root of the problem however increased capital flow within our nation is Small towns shouldn't have to hope for a prison to open nearby and downtown centers shouldn't sit empty as suburban sprawl encroaches but they do and it's a result of widely agreed upon public policies Engaging First Peoples in Arts-Based Service Learning Brydie-Leigh Bartleet, Dawn Bennett, Anne Power, Naomi Sunderland, 2015-11-11 This volume offers educators higher education institutions communities and organizations critical understandings and resources that can underpin respectful reciprocal and transformative educative relationships with First Peoples internationally With a focus on service learning each chapter provides concrete examples of how arts based community led projects can enhance and support the quality and sustainability of First Peoples cultural content in higher education In partnership with communities across Australia Aotearoa New Zealand Canada and the United States contributors reflect on diverse projects and activities offer rich and engaging first hand accounts of student community and staff experiences share recommendations for arts based service learning projects and outline future directions in the field Engaging Undergraduates in Publishable Research: Best Practices Traci A.
