

The Imperative of Agricultural Progress and Rural Development

Some important quotations:

"It is in the agricultural sector that the battle for long-term economic development will be won or lost"

---Gunnar Myrdal , Nobel Laureate in Economics

"The main burden of development and employment creation will have to be borne by the part of the economy in which agriculture is the predominant activity, that is, the rural sector."

----Francis Blanchard, Director General of the International Labour Organization

Agricultural Transformation Social:

Agricultural Transformation and Social Change in Africa Bernhard Nett, Volker Wulf, Abdramane Diarra, 1992 The book includes presentations made to the Inter University Center's IUC conference on Agricultural Transformation in Africa during the 1990s Present Performance and Future Trends June 1991 in Dubrovnik With agriculture becoming a major issue of development studies the contributors tried to develop a comprehensive and interdisciplinary approach to analyse trends causes and the development potential of structural changes and agricultural transformation policies in Africa Agricultural Transformation in a Global History Perspective Ellen Hillbom, Patrick Svensson, 2013-03-05 History teaches us that agricultural growth and development is necessary for achieving overall better living conditions in all societies Although this process may seem homogenous when looked at from the outside it is full of diversity within This book captures this diversity by presenting eleven independent case studies ranging over time and space By comparing outcomes attempts are made to draw general conclusion and lessons about the agricultural transformation process Agricultural Transformation, Food and Environment Henry Buller, Keith Hoggart, 2017-10-19 This title was first published in 2001 An interdisciplinary team of leading European scholars bring together case studies from Western and Eastern Europe to illustrate and critically analyze the shifting relationships of agricultural environmental and food policy in Europe In the most comprehensive book of its kind it examines the critical changes both in agricultural environmental and food politics and the way these domains have been investigated by European social scientists The book evaluates specific changes focussing in particular on agricultural restructuring in the face of globalization Europeanization and the collapse of the Soviet model of agricultural organization agriculture environmental relations and consumer preferences Beginning by examining the degree to which Europe offers a unique and identifiable rural experience the book includes a critical re examination of the process of agricultural transformation In the light of contemporary events and the over seductive and essentially mythical notion of post productivism Agricultural Transformation and Social Change in an East German County Joachim Singelmann, 1995

Agricultural Transformation in Nepal Ganesh Thapa, Anjani Kumar, P.K. Joshi, 2019-11-25 This book addresses some key strategic questions related to agriculture in the context of major contemporary developments and emerging challenges in Nepal such as the changing role of agriculture with economic growth structural transformation in reducing poverty improving nutritional outcomes and addressing the challenges of climate change The book also suggests policy measures to improve the delivery of critical inputs and services and ensure the participation of marginal and smallholders in high value chains Further it discusses how the new federal system and governance structure will affect the delivery of agricultural technology and services The book is divided into five parts Part I discusses macro issues in the agriculture sector while Part II focuses on agricultural productivity growth and its main drivers The third part explores diversification in the agricultural and non agricultural sectors by farmers and other rural people for livelihood improvement while the fourth part deals with agricultural trade and marketing issues highlighting policy implications and recommendations in the areas of immediate focus and further research Lastly Part V addresses institutions and governance issues which are vital for agricultural development In the final chapter the editors summarize and synthesize the book's main findings and develop a policy agenda for addressing the many challenges faced by the agriculture sector in Nepal so as to make it more productive competitive sustainable and inclusive The book offers a rich source of analytical information on various aspects of agricultural development in Nepal and will be of immense value to policymakers development partners civil society students and those interested in the economic and agricultural development of not only Nepal but also other developing countries

Agricultural transformation in Asia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2021-06-11 Over the past few decades some countries in Asia have been more successful than others in addressing poverty and malnutrition The key question is what policies strategies legislation and institutional arrangements have led to a transformed agricultural sector effectively contributing to poverty alleviation and addressing malnutrition The great majority of national policymakers within and outside the Asia Pacific region are keen to understand the causes of agricultural development and transformation in successful countries in Asia A large number of studies have been conducted and some of them link specific public policies and interventions to successful agricultural transformation However there seems to be lack of focus on the policy legislative and institutional environments that have enabled or impeded agricultural transformation in Asia National policymakers are likely to benefit significantly from adequate and convincing information on successful and relevant experiences in successful transformation Countries are interested in what their neighbours and peers have done and why some have achieved impressive results The main purpose of this study is to take stock of public sector experiences in facilitating and enabling agricultural transformation in selected countries in Asia The study focuses on key public sector interventions in particular policies legislation and institutional innovations because these areas have so far not been adequately researched

The Future of Agricultural Landscapes, Part I, 2020-10-27 Advances in Ecological Research Volume 63 the latest release in this ongoing series includes specific chapters on Tropical Ecosystems in the 21st Century Chapters in this volume cover topics such as Landscape scale expansion of agroecology to enhance natural pest control a systematic review and Ecosystem services and the resilience of agricultural landscapes Provides information that relates to a thorough understanding of the field of ecology Deals with topical and important reviews on the physiologies populations and communities of plants and animals

Agricultural Transformation and Social Change in a County in Eastern Germany Joachim Singelmann, 1994

Agricultural Transformation in Ethiopia Atakilte Beyene, 2018-10-15 For thousands of years Ethiopia has depended on its smallholding farmers to provide the bulk of its food needs But now such farmers find themselves under threat from environmental degradation climate change and declining productivity As a result smallholder agriculture has increasingly become subsistence oriented with many of these farmers trapped in a cycle of poverty

Smallholders have long been marginalised by mainstream development policies and only more recently has their crucial importance been recognised for addressing rural poverty through agricultural reform. This collection, written by leading Ethiopian scholars, explores the scope and impact of Ethiopia's policy reforms over the past two decades on the smallholder sector. Focusing on the Lake Tana basin in northwestern Ethiopia, an area with untapped potential for growth, the contributors argue that any effective policy will need to go beyond agriculture to consider the role of health, nutrition, and local food customs, as well as including increased safeguards for smallholders' land rights. They in turn show that smallholders represent a vitally overlooked component of development strategy, not only in Ethiopia but across the global South.
