Boeing B29 Superfortress:

B-29 Superfortress Graham M. Simons, 2012-09-19 A well written history of a history changing aircraft the bomber that carried the two atomic bombs that destroyed Hiroshima and Nagasaki in WWII Aeromilitaria The Boeing B 29 Superfortress was a four engined heavy bomber flown primarily by the United States in World War Two and the Korean War The name Superfortress was derived from that of its well known predecessor the B 17 Flying Fortress The B 29 was the progenitor of a series of Boeing built bombers reconnaissance aircraft trainers and tankers including the variant B 50 Superfortress The B 29 was one of the largest aircraft to see service during World War Two A very advanced bomber for its time it included features such as pressurized cabins an electronic fire control system and remote controlled machine gun turrets Though it was designed as a high altitude daytime bomber in practice it actually flew more low altitude nighttime incendiary bombing missions It was the primary aircraft in the American firebombing campaign against Japan in the final months of World War Two Unlike many other World War Two era bombers the B 29 remained in service long after the war ended with a few even being employed as flying television transmitters The type was finally retired in the early 1960s with 3 960 aircraft in all built Without doubt there is a clear strong requirement to put the record straight using primary source documentation to record the undoubted achievements alongside and in context with the shortcomings to the type s design and operation that have otherwise received scant attention The book covers all variants and is profusely illustrated The B-29 Superfortress Chronology, 1934-1960 Robert A. Mann, 2009-09-12 The Boeing B 29 Superfortress lived an operational life of only 26 years but what a life it was The introduction to this book provides basic information on the physical plane dimensions specs leading particulars and operational usages Then an exhaustive day by day chronology of the B 29 is presented from the earliest designs in 1934 through thousands of missions and aircraft events in World War II and Korea to the 1960 retirement of the last operational B 29 The book also includes an extensive glossary and three appendices which provide a discussion of the general anatomy of a mission a sample of operational voice or radio codes used in 1945 and a guide to very unofficial aircraft names Boeing B-29 Superfortress Peter M. Bowers, 1999 This top flight series provides a review of the world s most exciting combat aircraft Boeing B-29 Superfortress John M. Campbell, 1997 The famed B 29 Superfortress is presented in this all new collection of World War II and Korean War era photographs Many of the 850 photographs appear here for the first time and are identified as to unit and location John Campbell is also the author of Consolidated B 24 Liberator and Talisman A Collection of Nose Art available from Schiffer Publishing Ltd Boeing B-29 Superfortress Steve Pace, 2003 The Boeing B 29 Superfortress was the most advanced of all World War II bombers This is the complete history of this advanced aircraft and includes full details of its design and manufacture and service with American and British air forces during World War II the Korean War and after Boeing B-29 Superfortress Mantelli - Brown - Kittel - Graf, 2019-02-08 New edition completely revised and updated The Boeing B 29 Superfortress will be remembered as the aircraft to have used the atomic weapon in action during the war it was in fact aircraft of this type that dropped the atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki to force Japan to surrender in August 1945 The Superfortress was designed for high altitude strategic bombing but also excelled in low altitude nighttime incendiary bombing and the dropping of naval mines to blockade Japan One of the largest aircraft of World War II the B 29 was designed with cutting edge technology which included a pressurized cabin a two wheel tricycle landing gear and a computer controlled analog fire control system which allowed a gunner and a fire control officer to direct four remote machine gun turrets The design and production cost of 3 billion equivalent to 51 billion in 2024 dollars far exceeding the 1.9 billion cost of the Manhattan Project made the B 29 program the most expensive of the war The B 29 was capable of flying at altitudes of up to 9 710 metres 31 850 ft at speeds of up to 560 km h 350 mph this was its best defense because Japanese fighters could barely reach that altitude and few could catch the B 29 even if they did The most famous B 29s were the Silverplate series which were extensively modified to carry nuclear weapons Initially it was considered to use the British Lancaster as a nuclear bomber as this would require fewer modifications However the superior range and high altitude performance of the B 29 made it a much better choice and after the B 29 began to be modified in November 1943 to carry the atomic bomb the suggestion of using the Lancaster was never considered again The B-29
