Wolves L. David Mech,Morgan Anderson,H. Dean Cluff,2025-03-12 In a fascinating story of discovery and science we meet a remote population of wolves unafraid of humans For parts of twenty four summers wolf biologist L David Mech lived with a group of wolves on Ellesmere Island some six hundred miles from the North Pole Elsewhere most wolves flee from even the scent of humans but these animals evolving relatively free from human persecution are unafraid Having already spent twenty eight years studying other populations of wolves more remotely by aircraft snow tracking live trapping and radio tracking Mech was primed to join their activities up close and record their interactions with each other This book tells the remarkable story of what Mech and the researchers who followed him have learned while living among the wolves The Ellesmere wolves were so unconcerned with Mech s presence that they allowed him to camp near their den and to sit on his all terrain vehicle as he observed them watching packs as large as seven adults and six pups go about their normal activities In these extraordinarily close quarters a pup untying his bootlace or an adult sniffing his gloved hand was just part of daily life Mech accompanied the wolves on their travels and watched as they hunted muskoxen and arctic hares By achieving the same kind of intimacy with his wild hosts every action that we might experience living with domesticated dogs Mech gained new insights into common but rarely studied behaviors like pup feeding food caching howling and scent marking After Mech s time at Ellesmere ended his coauthors and fellow wolf researchers Morgan Anderson and H Dean Cluff spent parts of four summers studying the wolves via radio collars further illuminating the creatures movements and ecology This book synthesizes their findings offering both a compelling scientific overview of the animals behavior from hunting to living in packs to rearing pups and a tale of adventure and survival in the Arctic
