Simons,2013-11-14 A masterpiece of the most diligent research and extraordinary detail and surely represents the definitive study of the Comet a terrific book Royal Aeronautical Society This volume from the respected and well regarded aviation historian and author Graham Simons is a solid book of such scope that you'll probably consult it for a lot more than just Comet material. SpeedReaders info Extensively illustrated throughout, Comet features details lifted directly from enquiry and salvage reports, much of which have never been published before, and offers a unique insight into the failures and tragedies that blighted the early days of development, laying down lessons that were ultimately to benefit later designs. As part of his research into the book, the author met and interviewed Harry Povey, the De Havilland Production Manager, and John Cunningham, the Comet test pilot who would be the first to experience flight at the helms of the iconic craft. Both of these first-hand accounts are relayed in the book, adding a deeper sense of authenticity and a more personalized account of proceedings than facts and reports alone are able to achieve. Attention is also paid to the derivative Nimrod design, and the book features an interview that the author conducted with the aircraft commander of the last ever Nimrod operational flight. Interviews of this kind are supplemented by the author's own narrative of proceedings, setting personal experience within historical context and exploring the themes and historical topics that the interviews evoke. An outstanding account of the life of the Comet; all readers will find inspiration and achievement in the tale. Firetrench
