West,Brigitte Nerlich,2023-09-04 In an ever changing interconnected world the agriculture and food system faces constant challenges in many forms such as the impacts of climate change uncertainty surrounding the use of novel technologies and the emergence of new zoonotic diseases Alongside these challenges professionals working in the food system are faced with opportunities to improve food production and distribution As decision makers attempt to balance these threats and opportunities in order to secure more sustainable production systems the key question that arises is What do we envisage as the future for agriculture and food production With numerous voices advocating different and sometimes conflicting approaches ranging from organic farming to wider use of GMOs through in vitro meat production this discussion of the future raises significant ethical questions The contributions in this book bring together a diverse group of authors who explore a set of themes relating to the ethical dimensions of the agriculture and food futures including the role of novel technologies the potential issues raised by the use of biofuels the ethics of future animal production systems concepts of global food security as well as chapters on food governance priorities and educational aspects It is intended that this volume serves as an interesting collection and acts as a source of stimulation that will contribute to wider debate and reflection on the future of the agriculture and food system Report of the Administrator of Agricultural Research United States.

Agricultural Research Administration,1946 Metamorphoses of the Zoo Ralph R. Acampora,2010-06-14 Metamorphoses of the Zoo Animal Encounter After Noah is a volume dedicated to radically transformative approaches to spaces set aside as zoological parks or gardens Historically these establishments served as symbols of power and venues for entertainment but today they have taken to portraying themselves as flagships of environmental education scientific research and wildlife conservation Along with the past century s turn in exhibition design toward increasingly naturalistic architecture such portrayals have been received by many in an uncritically positive light At the same time it remains clear that zoos are immensely popular attractions drawing hundreds of millions of visitors globally per year This level of participation is consistent with the suggestion that humans harbor a strong sense of biophilia one which moves them to seek out diverse life forms when their own territories become too biologically homogenous from such a vantage it is no accident that zoos are most often situated in urban izing areas Metamorphoses of the Zoo emphasizes creative and reconstructive analyses of zoos that do not simply advocate marginal reform or quick abolition By focusing on issues such as interspecies progress and eco psychological health this unique collection will satisfy those in disciplines ranging from ecophilosophy to humanistic
