Psychonephrology 1 Norman B. Levy,2013-06-29 Major nephrological and psychological organizations have at best set aside only small portions of their programs for papers or panels devoted to the psychological aspect of patients with end stage renal disease Thus the increased need for information concerning the psychological aspects of end stage renal disease has been met by occasional journal articles professional peer discussions small portions of national conferences and informal conversations and consultations with people with clinical and research experience in these areas The First International Conference on Psychological Factors in Hemodialysis and Transplantation arose out of a need to have a forum in which the major people involved in treatment and research in this area could share their latest work among themselves and with the registrants The initial encouragement for organizing such a conference came from the rank and file of nephrology social workers nephrology nurses and liaison psychiatrists and psychologists In early 1977 I had decided that I would make an effort to organize such a meeting and asked the two other individuals most closely identified with major research in this area Atara Kaplan De Nour and Harry S Abram to join me in planning this conference With their support and suggestions concerning the program I embarked upon an attempt to raise financial backing for it I was somewhat surprised to find that the many equipment and drug companies supporting nephrological conferences were not greatly interested in this one

History of Psychiatry and Medical Psychology Edwin R. Wallace,John Gach,2010-04-13 Most of the prefatory issues are extensively elaborated upon in the Prolegomenon which also contains the complete references to the texts and authors discussed below Nevertheless the Preface would be grossly incomplete without touching on some of these issues books and scholars Too many of this book's chapters e.g. Moras Marx's D B Weiner's examine and reference important earlier as well as contemporary general histories of psychiatry and specialized monographs in German French Italian and Spanish Also in his 1968 Short History of Psychiatry discussed below Ackerknecht pp xi xii references important nineteenth and earlier twentieth century psychiatric histories in English French and German Such citations will of course not be repeated here Finally thanks to several publishers re editions of dozens of classical psychiatric texts one can consult their bibliographies as well See Prolegomenon for references to these splendid series In a rough and ready sense medical history began in classical Greece for example On Ancient Medicine While traditionally included in the Hippocratic corpus this text seems more likely to have been written by a non or even anti Hippocratic doctor Moreover the Hippocratic and other schools were hardly as secular as we now suppose On Epilepsy for example does not so much declare the prevalent denotation of it as the sacred disease erroneous as it does that it is no more nor less sacred than any other disease
