Browning's Roman Murder Story Richard Daniel Altick, James F. Loucks, 1968 Browning, Victorian Poetics and the Romantic Legacy Dr Britta Martens, 2013-05-28 Taking an original approach to Robert Browning's poetics Britta Martens focuses on a corpus of relatively neglected poems in Browning's own voice in which he reflects on his poetry his self conceptualization and his place in the poetic tradition She analyzes his work in relation to Romanticism Victorian reactions to the Romantic legacy and wider nineteenth century changes in poetic taste to argue that in these poems as in his more frequently studied dramatic monologues Browning deploys varied dramatic methods of self representation often critically and ironically exposing the biases and limitations of the seemingly authoritative speaker Browning The poems thus become devices for Browning's detached evaluation of his own and of others poetics an evaluation never fully explicit but presented with elusive economy for the astute reader to interpret The confrontation between the personal authorial voice and the dramatic voice in these poems provides revealing insights into the poet's highly self conscious conflicted and sustained engagement with the Romantic tradition and the diversely challenging reader expectations that he faces in a post Romantic age As the Victorian most rigorous in his rejection of Romantic self expression Browning is a key transitional figure between the sharply antagonistic periods of Romanticism and Modernism He is also as Martens persuasively demonstrates a poet of complex contradictions and an illuminating case study for addressing the perennial issues of voice authorial authority and self reference The Poetical Works of Robert Browning: Volume VIII. The Ring and the Book, Books V-VIII

Robert Browning, 1983 This is the second instalment of Browning's great murder story set in the Italy of the 1690s The Ring and the Book a poem which Henry James called a monstrous magnificence Here Browning lets the central characters of his poem the corrupt aristocrat and murderer Franceschini his victim and her rescuer tell the story in their own words

Virginal Sexuality and Textuality in Victorian Literature Lloyd Davis, 1993-01-01 This book examines the figure of the virgin a symbol central to many aspects of society and sexuality in nineteenth century England and its effects on the Victorian literary imagination Studying the virgin as a social sexual and literary phenomenon the volume contributes to current critical accounts of the relations among the body and language gender and discourse These essays explore the ways in which virginity is not a natural ideal but a complex cultural and literary sign The authors rethink the virginal as a textual counter example to the idealization of natural sexuality Browning's Experiments with Genre Donald S. Hair, 1972-12-15 One of the chief characteristics of nineteenth century poetics was a tendency to test the conventions and techniques of literary genres by shifting modifying and combining various styles and forms Browning fully exploited these changes because his interests and purposes as a poet seemed to demand more of the lyric the dramatic and the narrative than these kinds had traditionally been able to perform His fascination was with the development of the individual soul and he was determined to evoke in his readers his own insights into the complexity of human concerns thus he became a constant experimenter with genre Browning never felt that any experiment however unsatisfactory the result was wasted effort each direction tried made him better prepared to attempt another This book explores the kinds and modes with which he worked and describes the nature of the experiments he made concentrating on the earlier poetry and in particular on The Ring and the Book Professor Hair is sensitive to Browning's work and his criticism is a model of understanding warm appreciation and critical good sense

Robert Browning's Romantic Irony in The Ring and the Book Patricia Diane Rigg, 1999-06 This study is a reading of Robert Browning as an ironist in the tradition of the German Romanticist Friedrich Schlegel who coined the term Romantic irony Specifically Patricia Diane Rigg considers historicity or historical truth in Browning's The Ring and the Book by distinguishing between the processes of representation and re presentation within the context of Romantic irony

The Discourse of Self in Victorian Poetry E. Warwick Slinn, 1991 This book places Victorian poetry within the context of a radical shift over the last 150 years in the key European model for human definition and experience from the metaphor of self to the metaphor of text In this innovative approach Warwick Slinn examines the continuities from Hegel to Derrida in order to explain the force and challenge poetry which disrupts the assumptions of idealist lyricism This book places Victorian poetry within the context of a radical shift over the last 150 years in the key European model for human definition and experience from the metaphor of self to the metaphor of text In this innovative approach Warwick Slinn examines the continuities from Hegel to Derrida in order to explain the force and challenge poetry which disrupts the assumptions of idealist lyricism

Blood & Ink Albert Borowitz, 2002 The interplay between crime fact and crime fiction can be detected back to literature's earliest beginnings True crime has long been the basis of many plots of memorable literature from Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter to Jean Genet's play The Maids there has often been blood on the page

Catholic Sensationalism and Victorian Literature Maureen Moran, 2007-01-01 Exotic corrupt and dangerous Roman Catholicism functioned in the popular Victorian imagination as a highly sensationalized and implacably anti English enemy Maureen Moran's lively study considers a wide range of key authors including Charlotte Brontë Robert Browning Wilkie Collins and George Eliot as well as a number of non canonical writers to give a detailed account of the cultural tensions between Catholics and Protestants Moran shows that rather than representing a traditional religious schism the demonizing of Catholics resulted from secular fears over crime sex and violence

The Poetical Works of Robert Browning Robert Browning, 1983 This volume presents poetry Browning wrote in his seventies his last two books Parleyings 1887 and Asolando 1889 Both volumes are presented here with previously unknown sources a wealth of new contextual material and many textual nuances clarified giving a fresh view of the last phase of Browning's career What emerges is a poet more seriously Christian Protestant and Liberal than previously supposed more interested in Britain's destiny and Empire more enmeshed in the local battles of the 1880s and a writer of considerable range and wit Book Jacket
