Broken Entries Race Subjectivity Writing:

Terrain of Memory Kirsten Emiko McAllister, 2011-01-01 For communities who have been the target of political violence the after effects can haunt what remains of their families their communities and the societies in which they live Terrain of Memory tells the story of the Japanese Canadian elders who built a memorial in 1994 to mark a village in an isolated mountainous valley in British Columbia with their history of internment It explores memory as a powerful collective cultural practice following elders and locals as they worked together to transform a site of political violence into a space for remembrance They transformed a valley where once over 7 000 women men and children were interned into a pilgrimage site where Japanese Canadians can mourn and also pay their respects to the wartime generation This is a compelling story about how collectively excavating painful memories can contribute to building relations across social and intergenerational divides

Theatre Translation Theory and Performance in Contemporary Japan Beverley Curran, 2014-06-03 What motivates a Japanese translator and theatre company to translate and perform a play about racial discrimination in the American South What happens to a gay play when it is staged in a country where the performance of gender is a theatrical tradition What are the politics of First Nations or Aboriginal theatre in Japanese translation and colour blind casting Is a Canadian n drama that tells a story of the Japanese diaspora a performance in cultural appropriation or dramatic innovation In looking for answers to these questions Theatre Translation Theory and Performance in Contemporary Japan extends discussions of theatre translation through a selective investigation of six Western plays translated and staged in Japan since the 1960s with marginalized tongues and bodies at their core The study begins with an examination of James Baldwin s Blues for Mister Charlie followed by explorations of Michel Marc Bouchard s Les feluettes ou La repetition d un drame romantique Tomson Highway s The Rez Sisters and Dry Lips Oughta Move to Kapuskasing Roger Bennett s Up the Ladder and Daphne Marlatt s The Gull The Steveston t Noh Project Native Voices Foreign Bodies locates theatre translation theory and practice in Japan in the post war Showa and Heisei eras and provokes reconsideration of Western notions about the complex interaction of tongues and bodies in translation and theatre when they travel and are reconstituted under different cultural conditions

Unruly Penelopes and the Ghosts Eva

Darias-Beautell,2012-08-06 This collection of essays studies the cultural and literary contexts of narrative texts produced in English Canada over the last forty years It takes as its starting point the nationalist movement of the 1960s and 70s when the supposed absence or weakness of a national sense became the touchstone for official discourses on the cultural identity of the country That type of metaphor provided the nation with the distinctive elements it was looking for and contributed to the creation of a sense of tradition that has survived to the present In the decades following the 1970s however critics artists and writers have repeatedly questioned such a model of national identity still fragile and in need of articulation by reading the nation from alternative perspectives such as multiculturalism environmentalism neo regionalism feminism or postcolonialism These contributors suggest that the artistic and cultural flowering Canada is experiencing at the beginning of the twenty first century is to a great extent based on the dismantlement of the images constructed to represent the nation only forty years ago Through their readings of representative primary texts their contextual analysis and their selected methodological tools the authors offer a tapestry of alternative approaches to that process of dismantlement Together they read as an unruly Penelopiad their unravelling readings self consciously interrogating Canada s lack of ghosts

From Cohen to Carson Ian

Rae,2008-03-26 Detailed case studies of novels by Leonard Cohen Michael Ondaatje George Bowering Daphne Marlatt and Anne Carson as well as sections on A M Klein and Anne Michaels reveal how these authors framed their early novels according to formal precedents established in their poetry In tracking the authors shift from lyric to long poem to novel Rae also investigates their experiments with non literary art forms photography painting film The authors discussed combine disparate genres and media to alter notions of narrative coherence in the novel and engage the diverse but fragmented cultural histories of Canadian society

Imagining Justice Julie McGonegal,2009-03

Discourses of forgiveness and reconciliation have emerged as powerful scripts for interracial negotiations in states struggling with the legacies of colonialism While such discourses can obscure or even perpetuate existing power relations they can also encourage remembrance reformulate notions of justice and ultimately bring about social transformation

Trans.Can.Lit Smaro

Kamboureli,2009-10-22 The study of Canadian literature CanLit has undergone dramatic changes since it became an area of specialization in the 1960s and 70s As new global forces in the 1990s undermined its nation based critical assumptions its theoretical focus and research methods lost their immediacy The contributors to Trans Can Lit address cultural policy citizenship white civility and the celebrated status of diasporic writers unabashedly recognizing the imperative to transfigure the disciplinary and institutional frameworks within which Canadian literature is produced disseminated studied taught and imagined

Locating Memory Annette Kuhn,Kirsten Emiko McAllister,2006 Paying close attention to the setting in which photographs are made and used the contributors consider how meanings in photographs from historical inquiry to quests for identity may be shifted challenged and renewed over time and for different purposes
