Anchor Bible Jeremiah:

Jeremiah John Bright, 1965 The Anchor Bible Commentary is the collaborative effort of Protestant Catholic and Jewish scholars from around the world Jeremiah (the Anchor Bible). John Bright, 1965 Jeremiah 37-52 Jack R. Lundbom, 2004 Stirring words of the most outspoken of the Hebrew prophets are reexamined in this concluding volume of the esteemed Anchor Bible Commentary on Jeremiah This final book of the three volume Anchor Bible Commentary gives us translation and commentary on the concluding sixteen chapters of Jeremiah Here during Judah's darkest days when nationhood came to an end Jeremiah with his people confronted the consequences of the nation's sin while at the same time reconstituting a remnant community with hopes to give Israel a future Jeremiah preached that Israel's God Yahweh was calling to account every nation on the Earth even the nation chosen as his own For the latter Jeremiah was cast into a pit and left to die only to be rescued by an Ethiopian eunuch But the large collection of Foreign Nation Oracles in the book shows that other nations too were made to drink the cup of divine wrath swollen as they were by wickedness arrogant pride and trust in their own gods Yet the prophet who thundered Yahweh's judgment was also the one who gave Israel's remnant a hope for the future expressed climactically in a new and eternal covenant for future days Here too is the only report in the Bible of an accredited scribe writing up a scroll of oracles for public reading at the Temple This magisterial work of scholarship is sure to be essential to any biblical studies curriculum Jeremiah 37-52 draws on the best biblical scholarship to further our understanding of this preeminent prophet and his message to the world The Anchor Bible, 1965

Jeremiah John Bright, 1984 Jeremiah, 1965 The Anchor Bible : Jeremiah John Bright, 1964 Jeremiah 1-20: the anchor bible vol. 21A. Jack R Lundbom (ed. and trans), 1999 Jeremiah Jack R. Lundbom, 2015-09-09 This book on Jeremiah seeks to place before a broad audience of students and lay readers one of the truly great Hebrew prophets and extraordinary individuals of the ancient world It lifts up major themes preserved in the book bearing Jeremiah's name one of the most prominent being Jeremiah's understanding of himself as the prophet like Moses Jeremiah remained faithful to his calling during the final days of Israelite nationhood when the remnant of a once great nation fell to Nebuchadnezzar and the Babylonians in 586 BC He suffered along with everyone else but was nevertheless numbered among the survivors From his confinement in the court of the guard he gave a dispirited remnant many of whom would subsequently make the long journey into faraway exile unambiguous hope for the future announcing just before the nation's fall a new covenant that God would make with his people in future days Only an experienced specialist like Jack Lundbom can present the difficult book of Jeremiah in such a succinct and engaging manner outlining the trajectory from God's promise and his powerful Word to the international orientation and lasting hope therein and all set against the background of Israelite history and the biblical traditions The book is well presented to engage today's readers with references to relevant political and historical situations reflections questions and connections with the New Testament Georg Fischer SJ University of Innsbruck Austria Jack

Lundbom has contributed again on Jeremiah this time aiming at the general reader. He wisely chose twelve scriptural sayings relating to the prophet and expounded the themes therein. Reading this book people can attain a holographic understanding of the prophet and his book. It serves as a springboard to theologies in the Old Testament. The reflection at the end of each chapter also extends the message to the contemporary. An excellent work. Jonathan Tsoi, Associate Professor, OT, Lutheran Theological Seminary, Hong Kong. Jack R. Lundbom is a member of Clare Hall, University of Cambridge and most recently has been Distinguished Visiting Scholar at Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary in Evanston, Illinois. He has written the three-volume Jeremiah for the Anchor Bible commentary series (1999, 2004) and a commentary on Deuteronomy (2013) and most recently for Cascade Books, Theology in Language, Rhetoric and Beyond (2014). Jeremiah: The Anchor Bible vol. 21 John Bright (1908 Sept. 25, ed. and trans.), 1965.
