The Botany of Mangroves

SECOND EDITION

Botany Of Mangroves

P. B. Tomlinson, Philip Barry Tomlinson

Botany Of Mangroves:

The Botany of Mangroves P. Barry Tomlinson, 2016-10-27 Mangroves are distinctive tropical plant communities that occupy the intertidal zone between sea and land. They are of major ecological importance, have economic value as a source of food and raw materials, and serve as a buffer from flooding and climate change induced sea level rise. Mangroves are under threat from pollution, clearance, and over exploitation, and increasing concern has driven demand for an improved understanding of mangrove species. This book provides an introduction to mangroves including their taxonomy, habitat, specific features, reproduction, and socio-economic value. Fully updated to reflect the last two decades of research, this new edition of a key text includes newly documented taxa, new understandings of vivipary and the evolution of mangrove species, and a rich set of colour illustrations. It will appeal to researchers and students across a range of disciplines including botany, ecology, and zoology.

The Botany of Mangroves P. B. Tomlinson, Philip Barry Tomlinson, 1994 A concise descriptive overview of mangrove plants with emphasis on individual species.

World Atlas of Mangroves Mark Spalding, Mami Kainuma, Lorna Collins, 2010-09-23 Published with ISME, ITTO and project partners FAO, UNESCO, MAB, UNEP, WCMC and UNU-INWEH. This atlas provides the first truly global assessment of the state of the world's mangroves. Written by a leading expert on mangroves with support from the top international researchers and conservation organizations, this full colour atlas contains 60 full page maps, hundreds of photographs and illustrations, and a comprehensive country by country assessment of mangroves. Mangroves are considered both ecologically and from a human perspective. Initial chapters provide a global view with information on distribution, biogeography, productivity, and wider ecology, as well as on human uses, economic values, threats, and approaches for mangrove management. These themes are revisited throughout the regional chapters where the maps provide a spatial context or starting point for further exploration. The book also presents a wealth of statistics on biodiversity, habitat area loss, and economic value which provide a unique record of mangroves against which future threats and changes can be evaluated. Case studies written by regional experts provide insights into regional mangrove issues including primary and potential productivity, biodiversity, and information on present and traditional uses and values and sustainable management.

Tropical Mangrove Ecosystems A. I. Robertson, D. M. Alongi, 2013-03-18 Published by the American Geophysical Union as part of the Coastal and Estuarine Studies Volume 41. Mangrove forests are a dominant feature of tropical coasts. Like their terrestrial counterparts, these forests are under threat worldwide through a variety of destructive human practices. As is also the case with tropical terrestrial forests, management decisions about mangrove ecosystems are currently being made often without adequate fundamental knowledge of the processes controlling natural ecosystem function

Mangrove Ecosystem Ecology and Function Sahadev Sharma, 2018-11-07

Mangrove Ecosystem Ecology and Function deals with several aspects of mangrove science as well as conservation management and related policies. The book is divided into six sections and structured into 10 chapters. The first section discusses mangrove ecology structure and function, the second section explains mangrove physiology related to salt accumulation, the third section focuses on mangrove polychaetes, the fourth section talks about the bioprospect of mangrove microbes, the fifth section discusses soil geochemistry, and the sixth section elucidates mangrove management and conservation. Researchers from different countries and fields of mangrove ecosystem exploration have contributed their findings. This book would be an ideal source of scientific information to graduate students, advanced students, researchers, scientists, and stakeholders involved in mangrove ecosystem research.
