Includes 16 pages of photos. The Revised Reports, 1900. Finley Peter Dunne and Mr. Dooley Charles Fanning, 2021-11-21. Finley Peter Dunne, American journalist and humorist, is justly famous for his creation of Mr. Dooley, the Chicago Irish barkeep whose weekly commentary on national politics, war, and human nature kept Americans chuckling over their newspapers for nearly two decades at the beginning of this century. Largely forgotten in the files of Chicago newspapers, however, are over 300 Mr. Dooley columns written in the 1890s before national syndication made his name a household word. Charles Fanning offers here the first critical examination of these early Dooley pieces, which far better than the later ones reveal the depth and development of the character and his creator. Dunne created in Mr. Dooley a vehicle for expressing his criticism of Chicago's corruption despite the conservatism of most of his publishers. Dishonest officials who could not be safely attacked in plain English could be roasted with impunity in the pure Roscommon brogue of a fictional comic Irishman. In addition, Dunne painted through the observations of his comic persona a vivid and often poignant portrait of the daily life of Chicago's working-class Irish community and the impact of assimilation into American life. He also offered cogent views of American urban political life already dominated by the Irish as firmly in Chicago as in other large American cities and of the tragicomic phenomenon of Irish nationalism. Mr. Fanning's penetrating examination of these early Dooley pieces clearly establishes Dunne as far more than a mere humorist. Behind Mr. Dooley's marvelously comic pose and ironic tone lies a wealth of material germane to the social and literary history of turn-of-the-century America. The Inquisition in Hollywood Larry Ceplair, Steven Englund, 1983. The Inquisition in Hollywood examines the suppression of radical political activity in the film industry from the days of the Great Depression through the tumultuous House Un-American Activities Committee era to the waning days of the infamous blacklist. Although this thirty-year period of American history is marked by widespread targeting of leftists in all areas of life, those in the film industry predominately screenwriters were considered to be in positions of great potential indoctrinating power and found themselves under intense scrutiny as the cold-war hysteria mounted. Ceplair and Englund trace the history of political struggle in Hollywood back to the formation of the Screen Writers Guild in 1933. Many of the blacklisted filmmakers were members of the Communist Party, and all of the graylisted filmmakers had expressed their sympathy with progressive, mainly anti-fascist causes. BOOK JACKET A Special Scar Alison Wertheimer, 2001. Designed to appeal to a wide general as well as a professional readership, this work looks at the stigma surrounding suicide and offers practical help for survivors, relatives, and friends of people who have taken their own life.

Colburn's United Service Magazine and Naval and Military Journal, 1903. Twisting Arms and Flexing Muscles Timothy M. Shaw, 2018-01-18. Military force is considered essentially a non-military pursuit in international relations, specifically humanitarian intervention and peacebuilding. This coherent and interrelated study makes an important contribution to the existing literature by concentrating on empirical analyses. It is illustrated by key case studies which consider the complexities and dynamics associated with the application of military force Of particular importance in this context is the emphasis on areas of recent crisis such as Africa and the Balkans The book considers whether our understanding of military force and its utility is outdated and finds that new considerations are required in order to capture the demands of the new environment and generate more appropriate and effective responses The volume will have wide appeal ranging from students and academic researchers to high level policy makers and policy analysts in the military governance and democratization and peacebuilding communities as well as area specialists and non governmental organizations
