A Reliable Source:

The English Language Gerald P. Delahunty, James J. Garvey, 2010-05-14 Grounded in linguistic research and argumentation THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE FROM SOUND TO SE01 General tradeE offers readers who have little or no analytic understanding of English a thorough treatment of the various components of the language Its goal is to help readers become independent language analysts capable of critically evaluating claims about the language and the people who use it

Objects Daniel Z. Korman, 2015 One of the central questions of material object metaphysics is which highly visible objects there are right before our eyes Daniel Z Korman defends a conservative view according to which our ordinary natural judgments about which objects there are are more or less correct He begins with an overview of the arguments that have led people away from the conservative view into revisionary views according to which there are far more objects than we ordinarily take there to be permissivism or far fewer eliminativism Korman criticizes a variety of compatibilist strategies according to which these revisionary views are actually compatible with our ordinary beliefs and responds to debunking arguments according to which these beliefs are the products of arbitrary biological and cultural influences He goes on to respond to objections that the conservative s verdicts about which objects that are and aren t are objectionably arbitrary and to the argument from vagueness which purports to show that the sort of restriction that conservatives want to impose on which composites there are is bound to give rise to vagueness about what exists something that is ruled out by widely accepted theories of vagueness Finally Korman responds to the overdetermination argument the argument from material constitution and the problem of the many all of which are meant to motivate eliminativism by showing that accepting ordinary objects commits one to one or another absurdity More than (Just) Words Magdalena Szczyrbak, 2025-06-02

This edited collection illuminates the mechanisms involved in courtroom reality construction and the ways in which trial narratives are created and legal facts established It covers a wide range of jurisdictions and legal procedures spanning five continents In addition to explaining how courtroom actors utilise words to craft their narratives within institutional constraints it draws attention to the effect the gestural visual and material resources have on the discursive shaping of the judicial process The book highlights the intersection of legal and non legal perspectives in judicial and related settings those of judges prosecutors attorneys complainants lay witnesses forensic experts witness intermediaries and jurors Going beyond just words the volume elucidates the processes of meaning making and the discourse practices which underlie asymmetrical interaction in judicial settings Informed by diverse theoretical frameworks the book will appeal to legal linguists and discourse analysts studying institutional communication as well as legal practitioners engaged in trial practice Evolving Approaches to Understanding Natural Hazards Burrell E. Montz, Graham A. Tobin, 2015-10-05 The 21st century presents many challenges to the hazard manager dynamic climatic conditions combined with population growth rapid urbanization and changing socio economic relationships are reshaping disaster impacts community responses and social safety mechanisms Indeed human vulnerability is constantly restructured by the ongoing interplay of physical social economic and political forces At the same time reducing vulnerability and enhancing community resilience require policies aimed at mitigating the consequences of disasters as they affect different locations and different groups requiring sound scientifically based research to further an understanding of the forces at play and to devise appropriate means to counter them It is within this context that this book examines evolving approaches to natural hazards Research into natural hazards has a long tradition beginning with a focus on physical processes and evolving into an interdisciplinary agenda that incorporates interactions between the physical and human environments embracing initiatives ranging from the physical to the socio economic and political It utilises various methodological approaches and technological advances employing both quantitative and qualitative procedures The papers included in this book offer insights into the development of applied hazards research as they build on previous work evolving technologies improved understandings of the factors involved and increased awareness of the needs of those who manage hazards This volume shows an appreciation for the foundation that has been set and will inspire future researchers as they look to address these very pressing social issues Problems from Reid James Van Cleve,2015-08-25

In this systematic study James Van Cleve expounds Thomas Reid s positions and arguments on topics in the philosophy of perception knowledge and action taking interpretive stands on points where his meaning is disputed and assessing the extent to which his ideas make valuable contributions to issues philosophers are discussing today A Discursive Perspective on Wikipedia Susanne Kopf,2022-10-05 This book provides a concise yet comprehensive guide to Wikipedia for researchers and students of linguistics discourse and communication studies redressing the gap in research on Wikipedia in these fields and encouraging scholars to explore Wikipedia further as a platform and a medium Drawing on Herring s situational and medium factors as well as related developments in critical discourse studies the author studies the online encyclopaedia both theoretically and empirically examining its origins production and consumption before turning to a discussion of its societal significance and function s This book will be of interest to Wikipedia scholars from a range of disciplines as well as those with a broader interest in linguistics discourse studies and the digital humanities Woodrow Wilson, His Life and Work William Dunseath Eaton,Harry C. Read,Harry Cyril Read,1919 A Complete History of the World War William Dunseath Eaton,Harry C. Read,1919 Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board National Labor Relations Board,2016-02-15 Each volume of this series contains all the important Decisions and Orders issued by the National Labor Relations Board during a specified time period The entries for each case list the decision order statement of the case findings of fact conclusions of law and remedy Arguing Constructively Dominic A.

Infante,1987-12-01 A refreshing fusion of interpersonal human relations and argumentation This clear and engaging volume is unique because of its dual focus On the one hand the purpose is to instruct on the methods of argumentation theory This represents a set of principles methods and strategies of argument that have evolved from the time of Ancient Greece On the other hand the intent is to teach human relations in argumentative situations specifically how to manage interpersonal relations during arguments Books on argumentation and debate have tended to say little about how arguing can affect the relationship one has with an adversary How do you prevent harm to a valued friendship for instance Moreover books on interpersonal communication have had little to say about arguing Instead the emphasis is on achieving satisfying relations with others The author shows that recent research makes it clear that argumentation and interpersonal communication are complementary areas of communication Arguing constructively in informal interpersonal and small group contexts is a skill that can bring about good outcomes Instruction on building and maintaining satisfying relations with other people is lacking if it does not deal with how to do this while arguing especially since argumentative communication probably will occur throughout a relationship This book has been written to correct what has been perhaps too narrow a focus in the areas of argumentation and interpersonal communication
