September has come, it is hers
Whose vitality leaps in the autumn,
Whose nature prefers
Trees without leaves and a fire in the fireplace . . .
Who has left a scent on my life, and left my walls
Dancing over and over with her shadow –
Whose hair is twined in all my waterfalls
And all of London littered with remembered kisses.

Autumn Journal Poem:

Autumn Journal Louis Macneice,1943 Autumn Journal Louis MacNeice,1943 Autumn Journal Louis MacNeice,2015-02-05 Written between August and December 1938 Autumn Journal is still considered one of the most valuable and moving testaments of living through the thirties by a young writer It is a record of the author's emotional and intellectual experience during those months the trivia of everyday living set against the events of the world outside the settlement in Munich and slow defeat in Spain Louis MacNeice: Autumn Journal Gesztelyi-Nagy Henriett,2018 The Cambridge Companion to Contemporary Irish Poetry Matthew Campbell,2003-08-28 In the last fifty years Irish poets have produced some of the most exciting poetry in contemporary literature writing about love and sexuality violence and history country and city This book provides a unique introduction to major figures such as Seamus Heaney but also introduces the reader to significant precursors like Louis MacNeice or Patrick Kavanagh and vital contemporaries and successors among others Thomas Kinsella Paul Muldoon and Nuala Ni Dhomhnaill Readers will find discussions of Irish poetry from the traditional to the modernist written in Irish as well as English from both North and South This Companion the only book of its kind on the market provides cultural and historical background to contemporary Irish poetry in the contexts of modern Ireland but also in the broad currents of modern world literature It includes a chronology and guide to further reading and will prove invaluable to students and teachers alike Autumn Journal Louis Macneice,1963 Irish Classics Declan Kiberd,2001 A celebration of the tenacious life of the enduring Irish classics this book by one of Irish writing's most eloquent readers offers a brilliant and accessible survey of the greatest works since 1600 in Gaelic and English which together have shaped one of the world's most original literary cultures In the course of his discussion of the great seventeenth and eighteenth century Gaelic poems of dispossession and of later work in that language that refuses to die Declan Kiberd provides vivid and idiomatic translations that bring the Irish texts alive for the English speaking reader Extending from the Irish poets who confronted modernity as a cataclysm and who responded by using traditional forms in novel and radical ways to the great modern practitioners of such paradoxically conservative and revolutionary writing Kiberd's work embraces three sorts of Irish classics those of awesome beauty and internal rigor such as works by the Gaelic bards Yeats Synge Beckett and Joyce those that generate a myth so powerful as to obscure the individual writer and unleash an almost superhuman force such as the Cuchulain story the lament for Art O Laoghaire and even Dracula and those whose power exerts a palpable influence on the course of human action such as Swift's Drapier's Letters the speeches of Edmund Burke or the autobiography of Wolfe Tone The book closes with a moving and daring coda on the Anglo Irish agreement claiming that the seeds of such a settlement were sown in the works of Irish literature A delight to read throughout Irish Classics is a fitting tribute to the works it reads so well and inspires us to read and read again Autumn Sequel, a Rhetorical Poem in XXVI Cantos Louis MacNeice,1954 Louis MacNeice and the Poetry of the 1930s Richard Danson Brown,2009 This study investigates Louis MacNeice in two major central strands exploring MacNeice's ambiguous positioning as an Irish poet and the self-consciousness in his writing Twentieth Century Poetry Peter Robinson, 2005 Peter Robinson's third book of literary criticism presents a sequence of chapters exploring ways that selves and situations interact and become imaginatively identified with each other in poems Readings of works by Ezra Pound Basil Bunting Louis MacNeice W S Graham Elizabeth Bishop Allen Curnow Charles Tomlinson Mairi MacInnes Tom Raworth and Roy Fisher share an interest in how poems can be both attached to and detached from the culture society and conditions in which they were written These studies draw out and underline both the ubiquity and elusiveness of the self in the situation of the text The poems studied here are also discussed as focal points for relations between readerly and writerly selves and their situations in and over time
