Accepting Bereavement:

Death and Bereavement around the World John D. Morgan, Pittu Laungani, 2021-03-24 The make up of the contemporary nation state is increasingly multiethnic and statistics show that in many cases no one group is numerically the largest Interethnic relations are given global visibility by the media while much that happens among different groups depends on context Editors John D Morgan King's College London and Pittu Laungani South Bank and Manchester Universities England have gathered leading international authorities to produce Death and Bereavement Around the World the first of a five volume presentation and analysis of the ways different peoples experience dying and grief Effective bereavement care requires a knowledge of an individual's physical social educational and spiritual existence since the expressions of grief and the needs that emerge vary widely from one to another and are subject to past experiences cultural expectations personal beliefs and relationships An individual's identity comes from a sense of personal uniqueness solidarity with group ideals continuity with the past present and future and from the culture by which an individual is raised or adopted This first volume discusses the major religious traditions of the world and how they help followers deal with the fundamentals of life

New Perspectives in Bereavement and Loss: Complicated and Disenfranchised Grief Along the Life Cycle Manuel Fernández-Alcántara, Francisco Cruz-Quintana, María Nieves Pérez-Marfil, Cyrille Kossigan Kokou-Kpolou, 2021-07-27

Grief and Loss Katherine Walsh, 2021-11-16 Loss is a part of every life and grief related to loss is inescapable It can result in distress that impacts work learning rehabilitation spiritual beliefs social relationships health mental health and well being Helping professionals who encounter grief reactions in multiple settings are often not trained to identify and respond to the many complex grief related problems of clients Without the opportunity to learn how to assess and address grief many may lack confidence in acknowledging loss and providing effective support Although grieving is an extremely painful part of life integration and adjustment are possible and meaning can be made from loss Readers will find many examples from caring and resilient students interdisciplinary professionals teachers clients and family members who have learned to make meaning from loss The content of the third edition has been significantly influenced by the COVID 19 pandemic the opioid addiction crisis and increased awareness of racial trauma and injustice The book provides a foundation for understanding assessing and responding effectively to grief and loss The content is designed for students and professionals who find themselves working in proximity to loss trauma and grief in various capacities educator advocate case manager counselor mental health and health care provider and more The work is vitally important and the rewards for helping others cope with grief and loss are substantial

Death within the Text Adriana Teodorescu, 2019-03-13 The book tackles the challenging theme of death as seen through the lens of literature and its connections with history the visual arts anthropology philosophy and other fields in humanities It searches for answers to three questions what can we know about death how is death socialised and how and for which purposes is death aesthetically shaped Unlike many other publications the volume does not endorse the fallacy of over simplifying death by seeing it either in an exclusively positive light or by reducing it to a purely literary figure Using literature s potential to stimulate critical thinking many contemporary stereotypical configurations of death and dying are debunked and many hitherto unforeseen ways in which death functions as a complex trigger of meaning making are revealed The book proves that death is an inexhaustible source of meanings which should be understood as peremptorily plural discontinuous problematic competitive and often conflictual It offers original contributions to the field of death studies and also to literary and cultural studies
