Becoming One In The Spirit An Input:

The Impact of Bodily Experience on Paul's Resurrection Theology Kai-Hsuan Chang, 2021-09-23 Kai Hsuan Chang engages with the longstanding scholarly debate concerning the development of Paul's resurrection theology by investigating the correlation between his bodily experiences and his diverse articulations about resurrection. Drawing on insights from cognitive linguistics, Chang considers Paul's ideas about resurrection as fundamentally grounded in recurrent patterns of bodily experience, arguing that such experience of some religious activities in Paul's time—death rites, spirit possession, and baptism—contributed to the formation and development of his resurrection theology. Chang demonstrates that developments in Paul's ideas about bodily transformation at resurrection reflected in 1 Corinthians 15 resulted from a change in the experiential patterns on which his new idea is constructed, rather than transformation during heavenly ascent as seen in Jewish traditions of resurrection. He thus applies cognitive linguistic tools to two considerations: first, whether Paul had contextual reasons to generate his innovation in 1 Corinthians 15; and second, whether Paul's innovation recurred or had continual effects in Christian groups. In so doing, Chang shows that Paul's innovation directly addressed a contextual issue of death rites in Corinth and exerted a continuing effect on Paul's later ideas of transformation, spirit possession, and baptism.

Entry into the Spiritual Degree Rav Yehuda Leib Ashlag, 2021-09-14 Covid 19 required profound changes and quick adaptations from people all over the world. We too in Bnei Baruch quickly responded by adjusting our daily Kabbalah lessons. All over the world we entered the virtual realm to study together in a single room, and the need for new observations and precise insights led us to choose unique topics for the lessons to help us focus the spiritual work of each student and of all of us together as a world group. Every topic is a whole world in itself with its own nature and a wealth of meaningful perceptions. Every excerpt was selected with care from a wide variety of Kabbalistic texts with an emphasis on the two great lights, Baal HaSulam and RABASH. These excerpts solidify us and strengthen the connections among us students. The excerpts we read helped us grasp the thoughts of the kabbalists and the unique spirit that streams out of their words. This book is a rare collection of excerpts from the writings of the kabbalists that we learned with our teacher, Dr. Michael Laitman. For us it is a fountain of living water, and reading it arouses a unique spiritual inspiration in us. This collection transcends time and space, and you are invited to join us, quench your thirst with it, and grasp some more of the profound wisdom of Kabbalah.
