Company The Making of Western Indology explains and evaluates Colebrooke's role as the founder of modern Indology. The book discusses how Colebrooke embodies the significant passage from the speculative yearnings attendant on eighteenth century colonial expansion to the professional transnational ethos of nineteenth century intellectual life and scholarly enquiry. It covers his career with the East India Company from a young writer to member of the supreme council and theorist of the Bengal government. Highlighting how his unprecedented familiarity with a broad range of literature established him as the leading scholar of Sanskrit and president of the Asiatic Society in Calcutta, it shows how Colebrooke went on to found the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland and set standards for western Indology. Written by renowned academics in the field of Indology and drawing on new sources, this biography is a useful contribution to the reassessment of Oriental studies that is currently taking place.
