Athenian Citizen The Excavations Of The Athenian Agora:

The Athenian Citizen Mabel L. Lang, 2004 Using archaeological evidence from excavations at the heart of ancient Athens this volume shows how tribal identity was central to all aspects of civic life guiding the reader through the duties of citizenship as soldier in times of war and as juror during the peace

The Athenian Citizen Mabel L. Lang, 1987-01 The Agora was the civic center of Classical Athens and through studying materials found there much can be learnt about the origins of the world's first and possibly most representative democracy The author discusses many aspects of administration from the standardization of weights and measures represented by the standard mold for tiles in the center of the Agora to the ingenious workings of the Klepsydra the water clock which regulated a public speaker's time Many of the buildings and devices she discusses are still on display on site and in the museum This new edition is updated and revised with new color plates 32 pp Excavations of the Athenian Agora Picture Book 4 ASCSA 1987 new ed 2004

Agora Excavations, 1931-2006 Craig A. Mauzy, John McK. Camp (II), 2006 This history relates the archaeological work done by the American School of Classical Studies in Athens on the Agora excavations Areas covered include the reconstruction of the Church of the Holy Apostles from 1954-1956 and the rebuilding of the Stoa Each section of photographs is preceded by an introductory text and maps

Ancient Athenian Building Methods John McK. Camp (II), William B. Dinsmoor, 1984 While this booklet is illustrated solely with materials from the Athenian Agora it also provides a concise introduction to building styles and techniques that will be useful to anyone interested in ancient Greek architecture From financing to tools and from mason's marks to the clamps that held blocks together no detail is omitted in this well illustrated text The different parts of monumental buildings from the foundations to the tile roofs are all discussed with clear drawings to indicate how the whole was constructed

The Athenian Agora John McK. Camp, 1992 The great public square known as the Agora was the focal point of life in ancient Athens It acted as the living heart of the community where citizens met formally to administer civic affairs and informally to trade or discuss politics or to take part in religious processions and athletic displays Drawing on the wealth of excavated evidence richly supplemented by literary and inscriptional references Professor Camp tells the story of the Agora from Neolithic to medieval times Back cover

Excavations of the Athenian Agora, 1958

The Stoa of Attalos II in Athens Homer A. Thompson, 1992 Named after its donor the King of Pergamon the Stoa of Attalos was originally built around 150 B.C. Between 1953 and 1956 this long columned marble building was rebuilt by the American School of Classical Studies to store and display finds from the Agora excavations Using original materials and techniques the modern builders learned much about the construction and purpose of the stoa a ubiquitous classical building type This heavily illustrated account presents some of their findings
