Atas do II Congresso Internacional da Associação de Lingüística e Filologia da América Latina (ALFAL)

Asociación de Lingüística y Filología de América Latina,1987 Linguistics and Archaeology in the Americas Eithne B. Carlin, Simon van de Kerke, 2010-05-03 The contributors to this volume an international group of leading specialists guide us through different aspects of the study of Amerindian languages and societies that lie at the heart of the extensive and multi faceted work of Willem Adelaar the forerunning specialist in Native American studies of Meso and South America and Professor of Amerindian Studies at Leiden University The contributors focus on three larger regions the Andes Amazonia Meso America and the Circum Caribbean region giving us a state of the art overview of current linguistic and archaeological research trends that illuminate the dynamicity and historicity of the Americas in migratory movements contact situations grouping and re grouping of identities and the linguistic results thereof This book is a must have for all scholars of the American continent Studies in Etymology and Etiology David L. Gold, 2009 Dictionaries usually give only brief treatment to etymologies and even etymological dictionaries often do not lavish on them the attention which many deserve To help fill the gap the author deals in depth with several etymologically problematic words in various Germanic Jewish Romance and Slavic languages all of which have hitherto either been misetymologized or not etymologized at all Sometimes he succeeds in cracking the nut Sometimes he is able only to clear away misunderstanding and set the stage for further treatment Usually he marshals not only linguistic but also historical and cultural information Since this book also discusses methodology it has the makings of an introduction to the science art and craft of etymology David L Gold is the founder of the Jewish Name and Family Name File the Jewish English Archives and the Association for the Study of Jewish Languages as well as the editor of Jewish Language Review and Jewish Linguistic Studies The Oxford Handbook of Archaeology and Language Martine Robbeets, Mark Hudson, 2025-06-09 This volume provides a comprehensive and up to date overview of how archaeology genes and language can be combined to shed light on the human past Our understanding of human prehistory has been revolutionized in recent years by the growth of interdisciplinary perspectives and particularly by insights from the study of ancient DNA At a time when the Big Data movement in genetics and archaeology is beginning to make inroads into linguistics The Oxford Handbook of Archaeology and Language sets the agenda for future research in the discipline of archaeolinguistics The handbook is divided into three parts The first part introduces the basic frameworks of archaeolinguistics addressing recent trends and new perspectives Chapters in Part II explore the application of archaeolinguistics to different stages in human history from hunter gathering via the adoption of farming and the rise of writing to modern times Part III features regional case studies from different parts of the world including not only Indo European but also Uralic Transeurasian Sino Tibetan Paleosiberian Tai Kadai Austronesian Papuan Australian Afrasian Nilo Saharan Niger Congo Kalahari Basin Andean and Lowland South American languages In illustrating the extent to which linguistic archaeological and genetic histories align or differ the volume goes beyond the level of broad brush approaches by engaging specialists from a range of disciplines as co authors shedding light on language dynamics from multiple perspectives

Academic Identities in Higher Education Linda Evans, Jon Nixon, 2015-04-23 Academic identity is continually being formed and reformed by the institutional socio cultural and political contexts within which academic practitioners operate In Europe the impact of the 2008 economic crisis and its continuing aftermath accounts for many of these changes but the diverse cultures and histories of different regions are also significant factors influencing how institutions adapt and resist and how identities are shaped Academic Identities in Higher Education highlights the multiple influences acting upon academic practitioners and documents some of the ways in which they are positioning themselves in relation to these often competing pressures At a time when higher education is undergoing huge structural and systemic change there is increasing uncertainty regarding the nature of academic identity Traditional notions compete with new and emergent ones which are still in the process of formation and articulation Academic Identities in Higher Education explores this process of formation and articulation and addresses the question what does it mean to be an academic in 21st century Europe
