Brood Jack Whyte,2002-11-16 The Eagles Brood by Jack Whyte continues the saga of the Colony known as Camulod and the tale of the descendants of those brave Romans who forged a new way of life for the Celt and Roman peoples when the Roman legions departed Britain Most know the new leader of the Colony as Merlyn all call him Commander Caius Merlyn

History of Families Scott Forbes,2007-01-02 Why do baby sharks hyenas and pelicans kill their siblings Why do beetles and mice commit infanticide Why are twins and birth defects more common in older human mothers A Natural History of Families concisely examines what behavioral ecologists have discovered about family dynamics and what these insights might tell us about human biology and behavior Scott Forbes s engaging account describes an uneasy union among family members in which rivalry for resources often has dramatic and even fatal consequences In nature parents invest resources and control the allocation of resources among their offspring to perpetuate their genetic lineage Those families sometimes function as cooperative units the nepotistic and loving havens we choose to identify with In the natural world however dysfunctional familial behavior is disarmingly commonplace While explaining why infanticide fratricide and other seemingly antisocial behaviors are necessary Forbes also uncovers several surprising applications to humans Here the conflict begins in the moments following conception as embryos struggle to wrest control of pregnancy from the mother and to wring more nourishment from her than she can spare thus triggering morning sickness diabetes and high blood pressure Mothers in return often spontaneously abort embryos with severe genetic defects allowing for prenatal quality control of offspring Using a broad sweep of entertaining examples culled from the world of animals and humans A Natural History of Families is a lively introduction to the behavioral ecology of the family Reproduction and Distribution of Bald Eagles in Voyageurs National Park, Minnesota, 1973-1993 Leland H.
