Budapest A History From Its Beginnings To 1998:

Budapest, 1997 Budapest András Gerő, 1997 In this text Hungarian historians explore such subjects as the development of the original settlement of Budapest into a town the effects of transferring the university and state administration to Buda and Pest and the evolution of the capital into the country's cultural centre Local Memories in a Nationalizing and Globalizing World M. Beyen, B. Deseure, 2015-03-10 In historical studies collective memory is most often viewed as the product of nationalizing strategies carried out by political elites in the hope to create homogeneous nation states In contrast this book asserts that collective memories develop out of a never ending triangular negotiation between local national and transnational actors In the Public Eye Markian Prokopovych, 2014-08-19 During the 1884 inauguration of the Royal Hungarian Opera House in Budapest political elites staged a gala concert in the auditorium while the angry crowd excluded from this ceremony demonstrated on the street In 1917 the crowds queuing to a Béla Bartók premiere needed to be forcibly held back The book follows the history of the contested institution through a series of scandals public protests repertoire controversies and their representation in the urban press of the time Such conflicts often led to larger issues that concerned the Opera House as a music institution the birth of the modern public sphere and the modern audience Thereby the book calls for a critical rethinking of the cultural history of Budapest and Hungary in the late Habsburg Monarchy

Tourists, Signs and the City Michelle M. Metro-Roland, 2016-02-24 Drawing upon the literature of landscape geography tourism studies cultural studies visual studies and philosophy this book offers a multi disciplinary approach to understanding the interaction between urban environments and tourists This is a necessary prerequisite for cities as they make themselves into enticing destinations and compete for tourists attention It argues that tourists make sense of and draw meaningful conclusions about the places in which they tour based upon the interpretation of the signs or elements encountered within the built environment elements such as graffiti and lamp posts The writings of the American pragmatist Charles S Peirce on interpretation provide the theoretical model for explaining the way in which mind and world or thoughts and objects result in tourists interacting with place This theoretical framework elucidates three applied studies undertaken with foreign visitors to the Hungarian capital of Budapest Based upon extensive ethnographic field work these studies focus on tourists interpretation of the urban landscape with particular attention paid to the encounters with national culture the role of architecture and the importance of the prosaic in urban tourism Chicago of the Balkans Gwen Jones, 2017-07-05 At the point of its creation in 1873 Budapest was intended to be a pleasant rallying point of orderliness high culture and elevated social principles the jewel in the national crown From the turn of the century to World War II however the Hungarian capital was described variously as Judapest the sinful city not in Hungary and the Chicago of the Balkans This is the first English language study of competing metropolitan narratives in Hungarian literature that spans both the liberal late Habsburg and post liberal Christian national eras at the same time as the Jewish Question became increasingly inseparable from representations of the city Works by writers from a wide variety of backgrounds are discussed from Jewish satirists to icons of the radical Right representatives of conservative national schools and modernist avant garde and peasantist authors

Gwen Jones is Hon Research Associate at the Department of Hebrew and Jewish Studies University College London Jews, Nazis and the Cinema of Hungary David Frey, 2017-02-28 Between 1929 and 1942 Hungary's motion picture industry experienced meteoric growth It leapt into Europe's top echelon trailing only Nazi Germany and Italy in feature output Yet by 1944 Hungary's cinema was in shambles internal and external forces having destroyed its unification experiments and productive capacity This original cultural and political history examines the birth unexpected ascendance and wartime collapse of Hungary's early sound cinema by placing it within a complex international nexus Detailing the interplay of Hungarian cultural and political elites Jewish film professionals and financiers Nazi officials and global film moguls David Frey demonstrates how the transnational process of forging an industry designed to define a national culture proved particularly contentious and surprisingly contradictory in the heyday of racial nationalism and antisemitism Queer Budapest, 1873-1961 Anita Kurimay, 2020-09-04 By the dawn of the twentieth century Budapest was a burgeoning cosmopolitan metropolis Known at the time as the Pearl of the Danube it boasted some of Europe's most innovative architectural and cultural achievements and its growing middle class was committed to advancing the city's liberal politics and making it an intellectual and commercial crossroads between East and West In addition as historian Anita Kurimay reveals fin de siècle Budapest was also famous for its boisterous public sexual culture including a robust gay subculture Queer Budapest is the riveting story of nonnormative sexualities in Hungary as they were understood experienced and policed between the birth of the capital as a unified metropolis in 1873 and the decriminalization of male homosexual acts in 1961 Kurimay explores how and why a series of illiberal Hungarian regimes came to regulate but also tolerate and protect queer life She also explains how the precarious coexistence between the illiberal state and queer community ended abruptly at the close of World War II A stunning reappraisal of sexuality's political implications Queer Budapest recuperates queer communities as an integral part of Hungary's and Europe's modern incarnation The Political Life of Urban Streetscapes Reuben Rose-Redwood, Derek Alderman, Maoz Azaryahu, 2017-07-06 Streetscapes are part of the taken for granted spaces of everyday urban life yet they are also contested arenas in which struggles over identity memory and place shape the social production of urban space This book examines the role that street naming has played in the political life of urban streetscapes in both historical and contemporary cities The renaming of streets and remaking of urban commemorative landscapes have long been key strategies that different political regimes have employed to legitimize spatial assertions of sovereign authority ideological hegemony and symbolic power Over the past few decades a rich body of critical scholarship has explored the politics of urban toponymy and the present collection brings together the works of geographers anthropologists historians linguists planners and political scientists to examine the power of street naming as an urban place making practice Covering a wide range of case studies from cities in Europe North America Sub Saharan Africa and Asia the contributions to this volume illustrate how the naming of streets has been instrumental to the reshaping of urban spatial imaginaries and the cultural politics of place Urban Histories of Science Oliver Hochadel, Agustí

Nieto-Galan, 2018-09-20 This book tells ten urban histories of science from nine cities Athens Barcelona Budapest Buenos Aires Dublin 2 articles Glasgow Helsinki Lisbon and Naples situated on the geographical margins of Europe and beyond Ranging from the mid nineteenth to the early twentieth centuries the contents of this volume debate why and how we should study the scientific culture of cities often considered peripheral in terms of their production of knowledge How were scientific practices debates and innovations intertwined with the highly dynamic urban space around 1900 The authors analyze zoological gardens research stations observatories and international exhibitions along with hospitals newspapers backstreets and private homes while also stressing the importance of concrete urban spaces for the production and appropriation of knowledge They uncover the diversity of actors and urban publics ranging from engineers scientists architects and physicians to journalists tuberculosis patients and fishermen Looking at these nine cities around 1900 is like glancing at a prism that produces different and even conflicting notions of modernity In their totality the ten case studies help to overcome an outdated centre periphery model This volume is thus able to address far more intriguing historiographical questions How do science technology and medicine shape the debates about modernity and national identity in the urban space To what degree do cities and the heterogeneous elements they contain have agency These urban histories show that science and the city are consistently and continuously co constructing each other
