Shades of Love Beverly A. Rushin, 2001-08 Shades of Love spins a fictional story of life and prejudice that existed in a small upstate New York university in the turbulent 1960s. Passion erupts between Beth Farley, a White freshman student, and Walter Thompson, a Black college Dean of Students. Their lives twist and turn in a romantic struggle as they try to be together. Their desire causes emotional upheaval in the lives of their families and their friends. Will Beth abandon her family's emotional support and wealthy lifestyle, or be consumed by her deep desire to fulfill her love? Will Walt risk his family's scorn and his own long sacrifice to reach the status he has achieved? Or will the desire he feels for unrestrained rapture fuel his need to take a gamble, losing his lifelong goal? As Beth and Walt struggle with a raging whirlwind seeking change in what threatens to be a color-sensitive world, we follow those who are able to place people before prejudice and the result of those who take a much more narrow attitude.

Love Lost, Love Found Beverly Rushin, Thomas Shelton, 2009 The story begins with a winter storm sweeping across a summer resort town in New Jersey. Maggie, a recent widow, is alone with her grief in a rented cottage on the shore. As the wind howls and blusters around her little red house, she opens her door to a stranger whose car has broken down on a nearby road. He explains that he saw her single light burning on the deserted shore and appeals to her for help and shelter from the storm. Maggie and Walt quickly become friends. Their advanced age and wisdom afford them the luxury of knowing that life is short, so they indulge each day to its fullest. Their friendship is symbolized by this single light that brought them together and rescued each of them from a life filled by loneliness and despair. Maggie learns that Walt is not a widower but unlike herself has a wife Mary who has been hospitalized with Alzheimer's disease and a fatal heart condition for more than a year. Walt is despondent over his conflicting emotions. His love for Mary is strong but she has been unresponsive for years because of her illness. Walt feels he needs to go on with his life but feels guilty for doing so.

Uncommon Love Beverly A. Rushin, 2002-08-07 Can a sixty-year-old man find lasting happiness with a 19-year-old student? Will another young woman who has been deeply wounded by a true love of her youth reach out to encompass love from a man whose heritage and religion differ greatly from her own? Can a young woman from the next generation of this family defy convention in the mate selection process and reach for love from a member of her own family? Beverly Rushin has written a work of women's fiction chronicling the Baldwin family of Rochester, New York, which spans four generations from 1892 to 1995. This saga does not center on events of the world but rather on the unusual love story it reveals. These three main characters find love, lose love, and reach out to love again. The reader will laugh at them and with them, experiencing their emotional pain and their sexual passion. Most of all, those reading this book will travel with a family of heart; they will meet a cast of characters they can admire and/or despise. Readers will want to follow this family from the prologue to the epilogue.

The Diagnosis of Love Maggie Leffler, 2007 Grieving over her mother's death, her romantic missteps, and her doubts about her medical career, Dr. Holly Campbell accepts a job for a residency program in rural England but, as she struggles to deal with her own troubles, her new life is complicated by the arrival of her twin brother's runaway fiancée, her grade school crush, and her mother's old lover. A first novel. Original 17,500 first printing.

Broadsided by Love Beverly A. Rushin, 2000-12 Only those you love deeply can hurt you. Striking you with an unsuspected heartbreaking blow, Broadsided by Love tells the story of Ellen, a widow. Skip, a retired Naval Officer, and his daughter Patti. The novel goes from Wolfe Lake in Canada to Bainbridge Island in the United States. It progresses with each of the main characters wounded by love and the emotional and physical price they pay in seeking a safe harbor surrounded by love.

Love Her Madly Mary-Ann Tirone Smith, 2014-06-10 A tense death row drama meets brash FBI investigator Poppy Rice in Love Her Madly, the first of a winning new series by Mary Ann Tirone Smith. Poppy Rice is home in her D.C. apartment with very little furniture and lots of boxes she still hasn't unpacked after five years. It's three a.m. and she's suffering from her usual insomnia. While polishing her nails, she watches a tape of the CBS Evening News. Dan Rather is interviewing convicted ax murderer Rona Leigh Glueck. In ten days, Rona Leigh will be the first woman executed in Texas since the Civil War. Poppy pauses the tape on a close-up of Rona Leigh's small, delicate hands. Okay, she thinks, so maybe it was a lightweight ax. Poppy digs out Rona Leigh's case file to find along with the grisly crime scene photos, a physician's testimony that glacial muscle gave her the strength to commit the crime. When her public defender asked the crime lab for help determining whether such a small woman could physically commit these murders, he was turned away for not filing the correct paperwork. With the reluctant support of her colleague and sometime lover, Joe Barnow, the relentless Poppy reopens the investigation to find out if Rona Leigh deserves to receive a
