Brothers Campi Images And Devotion Religious Painting In The Sixteenthcentury Lombardy:

The Brothers Campi Bram de Klerck, Giulio Campi, Antonio Campi, Vincenzo Campi, 1999-01-01 The brothers Giulio Antonio and Vincenzo Campi leading artists in the North Italian town of Cremona in the second half of the sixteenth century supplied religious paintings to a wide range of clients both in their hometown and else where in the dukedom of Milan Their work stands out for its unusual choice of subject matter a high degree of naturalism and a directly accessible presentation With the religious paintings of the Campi brothers as its point of departure this book explores the way pictorial representations were used in the context of the Catholic reformation It was precisely in northern Italy where influences from northern Europe and central Italy converged that religious reforms translated themselves into visual art in unexpected ways Ample attention to the original public of the paintings brings to light the role these works played in the religious perception of their earliest users The Brothers Campi : Images and Devotion. Religious Painting in Sixteenth-Century Lombardy Bram de Klerck, 1999

Art and Music in the Early Modern Period KatherineA. McIver, 2017-07-05 The relationship between music and painting in the Early Modern period is the focus of this collection of essays by an international group of distinguished art historians and musicologists Each writer takes a multidisciplinary approach as he or she explores the interface between music performance and painting or between music and art theory The essays reflect a variety and range of approaches and offer methodologies which might usefully be employed in future research in this field The volume is dedicated to the memory of Franca Trinchieri Camiz an art historian who worked extensively on topics related to art and music and who participated in some of the conference panels from which many of these essays originate Three of Professor Camiz s own essays are included in the final section of this volume together with a bibliography of her writings in this field They are preceded by two thematic groups of essays covering aspects of musical imagery in portraits issues in iconography and theory and the relationship between music and art in religious imagery A Convent Tale P. Renee Baernstein, 2013-12-16 Power often operates in strange and surprising ways With A Convent Tale Renee Baernstein uncovers some of the nuanced methods cloistered women devised to exert their agency In the tradition of Simon Schama and Steven Ozment Baernstein uses the compelling story of a single clan the Sfondrati to refashion our understanding of the early modern period Showing the nuns as neither helpless victims nor valiant rebels but reasonable beings maneuvering as best they could within limits set by class gender and culture Baernstein writes against the tendency to depict women as inactive pawns and shows that even within the convent walls nuns were empowered by ties with their often earthly families and actively involved in the politics of the period Both a major contribution to scholarship on gender family and religion in early modern Europe and a colorful well told tale of Renaissance intrigue A Convent Tale is sure to attract a wide range of academic and general readers

The Endless Periphery Stephen J. Campbell, 2019-11-26 While the masterpieces of the Italian Renaissance are usually associated with Italy s historical seats of power some of the era s most characteristic works are to be found in places other than Florence Rome and Venice They are the product of the diversity of regions and cultures that makes up the country In Endless Periphery Stephen J Campbell examines a range of iconic works in order to unlock a rich series of local references in Renaissance art that include regional rulers patron saints and miracles demonstrating for example that the works of Titian spoke to beholders differently in Naples Brescia or Milan than in his native Venice More than a series of regional microhistories Endless Periphery tracks the geographic mobility of Italian Renaissance art and artists revealing a series of exchanges between artists and their patrons as well as the power dynamics that fueled these exchanges A counter history of one of the greatest epochs of art production this richly illustrated book will bring new insight to our understanding of classic works of Italian art Art in Renaissance Italy John T. Paoletti, Gary M. Radke, 2005 Art in Renaissance Italy sets the art of that time in its context exploring why it was created and in particular looking at who commissioned the palaces and cathedrals the paintings and the sculptures

Sixteenth-century Italian Drawings Edward J. Olszewski, 2008 Arcimboldo Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann, 2010-05-15 In Giuseppe Arcimboldo's most famous paintings grapes fish and even the beaks of birds form human hair A pear stands in for a man's chin Citrus fruits sprout from a tree trunk that doubles as a neck All sorts of natural phenomena come together on canvas and panel to assemble the strange heads and faces that constitute one of Renaissance art's most striking oeuvres The first major study in a generation of the artist behind these remarkable paintings Arcimboldo tells the singular story of their creation Drawing on his thirty five year engagement with the artist Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann begins with an overview of Arcimboldo's life and work exploring the artist's early years in sixteenth century Lombardy his grounding in Leonardesque traditions and his tenure as a Habsburg court portraitist in Vienna and Prague Arcimboldo then trains its focus on the celebrated composite heads approaching them as visual jokes with serious underpinnings images that poetically display pictorial wit while conveying an allegorical message In addition to probing the humanistic literary and philosophical dimensions of these pieces Kaufmann explains that they embody their creator's continuous engagement with nature painting and natural history He reveals in fact that Arcimboldo painted many more nature studies than scholars have realized a finding that significantly deepens current interpretations of the composite heads Demonstrating the previously overlooked importance of these works to natural history and still life painting Arcimboldo finally restores the artist's fantastic visual jokes to their rightful place in the history of both science and art

Meditatio - Refashioning the Self Karl A. E. Enenkel, Walter Melion, 2010-12-07 The late medieval and early modern period is a particularly interesting chapter in the development of meditation and self reflection The volume aims at examining its forms functions and strategies from a variety of disciplines including literary criticism art history history of religion philosophy and theology

Aquinas as Authority Harm J. M. J. Goris, 2002 There is no doubt that Thomas Aquinas together with Augustine is among the most influential authorities in the history of Western Christian theology Through the centuries theologians and philosophers have interpreted Aquinas and re constructed his thought in various ways As a result of this a very rich variety of theological and philosophical positions have appeared that claim to be inspired by the thought of Thomas Aquinas Positions like these are often labelled as a form of Thomism Although this can be helpful in bringing some order into the history of thought there is also a deceptive side to it Any classification runs the risk of obscuring the multiplicity of interests that have inspired the use of Aquinas as authority On closer investigation many questions arise What aims did Aquinas recipients have in mind and how did an appeal to Aquinas function in their attempts to reach these aims To what extent has their adoption of Aquinas ideas and approaches been successful or unsuccessful in answering new questions and in meeting the problems of their times And finally what can we learn from these divergent forms of Thomism To these questions the Thomas Institute at Utrecht devoted its second conference which was held from Thursday December 14 to Saturday December 16 2000 This book collects a selection of the studies that were presented
