Anthropology and Africa Sally Falk Moore, 1994      A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B. Steiner, Euclides Gonçalves, 2019-02-06 An essential collection of scholarly essays on the anthropology of Africa offering a thorough introduction to the most important topics in this evolving and diverse field of study The study of the cultures of Africa has been central to the methodological and theoretical development of anthropology as a discipline since the late 19th century As the anthropology of Africa has emerged as a distinct field of study anthropologists working in this tradition have strived to build a disciplinary conversation that recognizes the diversity and complexity of modern and ancient African cultures while acknowledging the effects of historical anthropology on the present and future of the field of study A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa is a collection of insightful essays covering the key questions and subjects in the contemporary anthropology of Africa with a key focus on addressing the topics that define the contemporary discipline Written and edited by a team of leading cultural anthropologists it is an ideal introduction to the most important topics in the field both those that have consistently been a part of the critical dialogue and those that have emerged as the central questions of the discipline's future Beginning with essays on the enduring topics in the study of African cultures A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa provides a foundation in the contemporary critical approach to subjects of longstanding interest With these subjects as a groundwork later essays address decolonization the postcolonial experience and questions of modern identity and definition providing representation of the diverse thinking and scholarship in the modern anthropology of Africa      Postcolonial Theory and the Arab-Israel Conflict Philip Carl Salzman, Donna Robinson Divine, 2021-04-26 Postcolonial theory is one of the main frameworks for thinking about the world and acting to change the world Arising in academia and reshaping humanities and social sciences disciplines postcolonial theory argues that our ideas about foreigners the other particularly our negative ideas about them are determined not by a true will to understand but rather by our desire to conquer dominate and exploit them According to postcolonial theory the cause of poverty tyranny and misery in the world and of failed societies around the world is Euro American imperialism and colonialism Previously published as a special issue of Israel Affairs this work examines and challenges postcolonial theory In scholarly research based papers the specialist authors examine various facets of postcolonial theory and application First the theoretical assumption and formulations of postcolonial theory are scrutinized and found dubious Second the deleterious impact on academic disciplines of postcolonial theory is demonstrated Third the distorted postcolonial view of history its obsession with current events to the exclusion of the historical basis of events is exposed and corrected Fourth an examination of Middle Eastern culture challenges the assumption that these societies have been shaped entirely and victimized by Western intrusion Finally exploring the Arab Israel conflict the one sided case of postcolonial Arabism is explored and found to be faulty      Theory in Africa, Africa in Theory Stephanie Wynne-Jones, Jeffrey Fleisher, 2015-06-19

Theory in Africa Africa in Theory explores the place of Africa in archaeological theory and the place of theory in African archaeology The centrality of Africa to global archaeological thinking is highlighted with a particular focus on materiality and agency in contemporary interpretation As a means to explore the nature of theory itself the volume also addresses differences between how African models are used in western theoretical discourse and the use of that theory within Africa Providing a key contribution to theoretical discourse through a focus on the context of theory building this volume explores how African modes of thought have shaped our approaches to a meaningful past outside of Africa A timely intervention into archaeological thought Theory in Africa Africa in Theory deconstructs the conventional ways we approach the past positioning the continent within a global theoretical discourse and blending Western and African scholarship This volume will be a valuable resource for those interested in the archaeology of Africa as well as providing fresh perspectives to those interested in archaeological theory more generally

Remotely Global Charles Piot, 2008-11-26 At first glance the remote villages of the Kabre people of northern Togo appear to have all the trappings of a classic out of the way African culture subsistence farming straw roofed houses and rituals to the spirits and ancestors Arguing that village life is in fact an effect of the modern and the global Charles Piot suggests that Kabre culture is shaped as much by colonial and postcolonial history as by anything indigenous or local Through analyses of everyday and ceremonial social practices Piot illustrates the intertwining of modernity with tradition and of the local with the national and global In a striking example of the appropriation of tradition by the state Togo's Kabre president regularly flies to the region in his helicopter to witness male initiation ceremonies Confounding both anthropological theorizations and the State Department's stereotyped images of African village life Remotely Global aims to rethink Euroamerican theories that fail to come to terms with the fluidity of everyday relations in a society where persons and things are forever in motion

Ethnography Vincenzo Matera, Angela Biscaldi, 2020-12-04 This volume presents both a historical exploration of ethnography and a thematic discussion of major trends that over different periods have oriented and re-oriented research practice As it overviews ethnography from different geographic and thematic perspectives it further explores new lines of ethnographic research including as feminist ethnography and visual research that uncover non traditional routes to anthropological knowledge As the great ethnographer E E Evans Pritchard wrote Anyone who is not a complete idiot can do fieldwork but will his contribution be to theoretical or just to factual knowledge As Evans Pritchard highlights and as this book argues successful ethnography must be connected to a sophisticated theoretical reflection rooted in social and cultural anthropology

Being There John Borneman, Abdellah Hammoudi, 2009-02-04 In recent decades anthropologists have learned to think of themselves as prisoners of text In the new orthodoxy ethnography is best viewed as a certain kind of literary genre textual criticism provides a master theory for understanding all manner of social and cultural phenomena and young anthropologists show a reluctance to leave the comfort zone of the archive and the library where whatever else happens no unruly interlocutor is going to do something unseemly like answering back This brilliant and humane volume promises to put paid to all that Anthropology is the product of an encounter with the world we call fieldwork and fieldwork is an edgy business in which researchers necessarily put themselves at intellectual political and ethical risk This volume restores that edgy business to the heart of our concerns and reminds anthropologists that their distinctive way of engaging the world can be the source of real intellectual excitement and as worthy of sophisticated theoretical reflection as anything they do Jonathan Spencer University of Edinburgh

The Problem of Money Bernhard Bierlich, 2007-12-01 Based on long term medical anthropological research in northern Ghana the author analyses issues of health and healing of gender and of the control and use of money in a changing rural African setting He describes the culture of medical pluralism so typical for neo colonial states and people s choices of traditional local medicine plants and sacrifices Islamic medicine charms and various written solutions and modern therapy biomedicine in particular western pharmaceuticals He concludes that the rural urban divide is a fiction that demarcations between these areas are frequently blurred linked by a postcolonial capitalist discourse of local markets regional economies and national structures which frequently emerge in local African settings but often originate in global and multinational markets
