Low, Denise Lawrence-Zúñiga, 2003-02-04 Over the last two decades anthropologists have drawn on insights from ethnographic inquiry to challenge accepted definitions and ideas of space and place Their efforts have led to an understanding that both the conceptual and material dimensions of space as well as of built forms and landscape characteristics are central to the production and reproduction of social life The Anthropology of Space and Place Locating Culture is an unprecedented collection of key articles presented explicitly for students and researchers in anthropology environmental psychology sociology architecture geography and urban planning The volume includes an introduction that synthesizes existing literature highlights core issues and maps potential directions for future research

Anthropology Cameron M. Smith, 2019-09-16 This book shows how anthropology can provide an innovative perspective on the human movement into space It examines adaptation to space on timescales of generations rather than merely months or years and uses evolutionary adaptation as a guiding theme Employing the lessons of evolutionary adaptation Principles of Extraterrestrial Anthropology recommends evolutionarily sound strategies of space settlement covering genetics at the organismal and population levels The author organizes the concept of cultural adaptation to environments beyond Earth according to observed patterns in human adaptation on Earth He uses original artwork and tables to help convey complex information in a form accessible to undergraduate and graduate students Though primarily written to engage students interested in space settlement and exploration who will eventually build a full anthropology of space settlement Principles of Extraterrestrial Anthropology is engaging to anthropologists across sub disciplines as well as scholars interested in the human dimensions of space exploration and settlement Just as the term exobiology was invented only a few decades ago to shape the field of space life studies exoanthropology is outlined to assist in the perpetuation of Earth life through human space settlement

The Anthropology of Space and Place Setha M. Low, Denise Lawrence-Zúñiga, 2003 Spatializing Culture Setha Low, 2016-08-12 This book demonstrates the value of ethnographic theory and methods in understanding space and place and considers how ethnographically based spatial analyses can yield insight into prejudices inequalities and social exclusion as well as offering people the means for understanding the places where they live work shop and socialize In developing the concept of spatializing culture Setha Low draws on over twenty years of research to examine social production social construction embodied discursive emotive and affective as well as translocal approaches A global range of fieldwork examples are employed throughout the text to highlight not just the theoretical development of the idea of Anthropology, Space, and Geographic Information Systems Mark S. Aldenderfer, 1996 Among the projects described here are studies of land degradation in the Peruvian Amazon settlement patterns in the Pacific northwest ethnic distribution within the Los Angeles garment industry and prehistoric sociopolitical development among the Anasazi Following an introduction that discusses the theory of geographic information systems in relation to anthropological inquiry the book is divided into sections demonstrating actual applications in cultural anthropology archaeology paleoanthropology and physical anthropology

Anthropology, Space, and Geographic Information Systems Mark Aldenderfer, Herbert D. G. Maschner, 1996-07-18 Major advances in the use of geographic information systems have been made in both anthropology and archaeology Yet there are few published discussions of these new applications and their use in solving complex problems This book explores these techniques showing how they have been successfully deployed to pursue research previously considered too difficult or impossible to undertake Among the projects described here are studies of land degradation in the Peruvian Amazon settlement patterns in the Pacific northwest ethnic distribution within the Los Angeles garment industry and prehistoric sociopolitical development among the Anasazi Following an introduction that discusses the theory of geographic information systems in relation to anthropological inquiry the book is divided into sections demonstrating actual applications in cultural anthropology archaeology paleoanthropology and physical anthropology The work will be of much interest within all these communities

At Home Irene Cieraad, 2021-10-28 In a volume that brings together a wide range of disciplines art history sociology architecture cultural anthropology and environmental psychology Irene Cieraad presents a collection of articles that focuses on the practices and symbolism of domestic space in Western society These essays go beyond the discussion of conventional issues such as aesthetics and social standing At Home takes an in depth anthropological look at how different cultures use their homes as a visual model of the culture's social structure

Spatial Anthropology Les Roberts, 2018-06-20 Spatial Anthropology draws together a number of interrelated strands of research focused on landscape place and cultural memory in the north west of England At the core of the book lies an engagement with the methodological opportunities offered by new interdisciplinary frameworks of research and practice that have emerged in the wake of a putative spatial turn in arts and humanities scholarship in recent years The spatial methods explored in the book represent a consolidation of site specific interventions enacted in landscapes located in the north west and beyond Utilising digital tools and geospatial technologies alongside ethnographic performative and autoethnographic modes of spatio cultural analysis spatial anthropology is presented as a geographically immersive and critically reflexive set of practices designed to explore the embodied and increasingly multi faceted spatialities of place mobility and memory From the radically placeless environment of a motorway traffic island to the affective archipelago of former cinema sites or the songlines and micro geographies of musical memory Spatial Anthropology offers a rich tapestry of landscapes practices and spatial stories that speaks to both the particularities of place and locality as well as the more delocalised topographies of regional national and global mobility
