

Beyond the Cockpit featuring Derek Hutchinson

Volume 3

A kayak is made to dance on the water if you know how to lead it. The key to getting the most out of your kayak is learning how to edge, lean and brace. USK was fortunate to get Derek Hutchinson to share his many years of experience in teaching students how to feel comfortable leaning out beyond the cockpit.

Considered by many, as the father of modern day sea kayaking, Derek Hutchinson wrote the first book on sea kayaking, was the first to cross the North Sea in a single kayak (100 mile trip), has designed seventeen kayaks and is a senior coach for the British Canoe Union. The techniques he shares in this video are a culmination of his years of experience. The skills are taught on calm water, but are designed for use in rough water conditions. In Derek's own words about this video "the inexperienced become courageous and the experienced learn finesse."

Derek is also a marvelous storyteller, so after the instructional portion of the video, we have included a non-fireside chat with Derek as he shares some kayaking history and poetry.
