At Home Abroad Henry R. Nau, 2018-09-05 The United States has never felt at home abroad The reason for this unease even after the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 is not frequent threats to American security It is America s identity The United States its citizens believe is a different country a New World of divided institutions and individualistic markets surviving in an Old World of nationalistic governments and statist economies In this Old World the United States finds no comfort and alternately tries to withdraw from it and reform it America cycles between ambitious internationalist efforts to impose democracy and world order and more nationalist appeals to trim multilateral commitments and demand that the European and Japanese allies do more In At Home Abroad Henry R. Nau explains that America is still unique but no longer so very different All the industrial great powers in western Europe and arguably also Japan are now strong liberal democracies A powerful and peaceful new world exists beyond America s borders and anchors America s identity easing its discomfort and ending the cycle of withdrawal and reform Nau draws on constructivist and realist perspectives to show how relative national identities interact with relative national power to define U S national interests He provides fresh insights for U S grand strategy toward various countries In Europe the identity and power perspective advocates U S support for both NATO expansion to consolidate democratic identities in eastern Europe and concurrent but separate great power cooperation with Russia in the United Nations In Asia this perspective recommends a shift of U S strategy from bilateralism to concentric multilateralism starting with an emerging democratic security community among the United States Japan South Korea Australia New Zealand India and Taiwan and progressively widening this community to include reforming ASEAN states and if it democratizes China In the developing world Nau s approach calls for balancing U S moral identity and material power commitments avoiding military intervention for purely moral reasons as in Somalia but undertaking such intervention when material threats are immediate as in Afghanistan or material and moral stakes coincide as in Kosovo
