Beyond The Barricades Popular Resistance In South Africa In The 1980s:

Women and Photography in Apartheid South Africa Marie Meyerding, 2025-04-29 Tracing the lives and works of five women in four case studies author Marie Meyerding examines the representation of women in the field of photography in South Africa in the second half of the twentieth century All of them are critically understudied with no existing scholarship dedicated exclusively to their photographic contributions Focusing on the representation of women on two different levels as agents behind the camera and as subjects in photographs it showcases women photographers portraying their female contemporaries and analyses to what extent they adhered to or subverted common forms of gender representation In recuperating their forgotten archives the book argues that none of these women are marginal figures but rather that each of them played a leading role in the field of photography in their own time The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history history of photography gender studies intersectionality and African studies Beyond the Barricades Iris Tillman Hill, Alex Harris, 1989 Photographs and text describe one of the longest and bloodiest periods of political resistance to apartheid The Market Photo Workshop in South Africa and the 'Born Free' Generation Julie Bonzon, 2023-09-15 This study presents the history of the Market Photo Workshop MPW in Johannesburg and works produced by its new generation of photography students Founded in 1989 by internationally renowned documentary photographer David Goldblatt the MPW has reflected upon South African political struggles and sociocultural changes since its creation Its foundation parallels a moment in time when photography was considered a truth telling genre and an essential source of documents deployed against the apartheid regime This book reflects on the evolution of the MPW in the post apartheid era and explores how its new generation of students engages the photographic tradition of this institution and the revolutionary times that accompanied its creation to question their present moment The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies photography African studies cultural studies and post colonial studies Art and the End of Apartheid John Peffer, 2009 Black South African artists have typically had their work labeled African art or township art qualifiers that when contrasted with simply modernist art have been used to marginalize their work both in South Africa and internationally This is the first book to fully explore cosmopolitan modern art by black South Africans under apartheid Photography in Africa Richard Vokes, 2012 Gives an ethnographic account of the complexities of the use of photography in Africa both historically and in contemporary practice This collection of studies in African photography examines through a series of empirically rich historical and ethnographic cases the variety of ways in which photographs are produced circulated and engaged across a range of social contexts In so doing it elucidates the distinctive characteristics of African photographic practices and cultures vis vis those of other forms of vernacular photography worldwide In addition these studies develop a reflexive turn examining the history of academic engagement with these African photographic cultures and reflecting on the distinctive qualities of the ethnographic method as a means for studying such phenomena The volume critically engages current debates in African photography and visual anthropology First it extends our understanding of the variety of ways in which both colonial and post colonial states in Africa have used photography as a means for establishing and projecting their authority Second it moves discussion of African photography away from an exclusive focus on the role of the studio and looks at the circulations through which the studio's products the photographs themselves later pass as artefacts of material culture Last it makes an important contribution to our understanding of the relationship between photography and ethnographic research methods as these have been employed in Africa

RICHARD VOKES is Senior Lecturer in Anthropology and Development Studies at the University of Adelaide Australia and author of Ghosts of Kanungu      Violence and Non-Violence in Africa Pal Ahluwalia, Louise Bethlehem, Ruth Ginio, 2007-03-12 This unique volume seeks both to historicize and to deconstruct the pervasive almost ritualistic association of Africa with forms of terrorism as well as extreme violence the latter bordering on and including genocide Africa is tendentiously associated with violence in the popular and academic imagination alike Written by leading authorities in postcolonial studies and African history as well as highly promising emergent scholars this book highlights political social and cultural processes in Africa which incite violence or which facilitate its negotiation or negation through non violent social practice The chapters cover diverse historical periods ranging from fourteenth century Ethiopia and early twentieth century Cameroon to contemporary analyses set in Kenya Tanzania Nigeria Cameroon the Ivory Coast and South Africa It makes a crucial contribution to a revitalized understanding of the social and historical coordinates of violence or its absence in African settings Violence and Non Violence in Africa will be of interest to students and scholars of African history and anthropology colonialism and post colonialism political science and Africanist cultural studies      Women and Photography in Africa Darren Newbury, Lorena Rizzo, Kylie Thomas, 2020-10-26 This collection explores women's multifaceted historical and contemporary involvement in photography in Africa The book offers new ways of thinking about the history of photography exploring through case studies the complex and historically specific articulations of gender and photography on the continent and attending to the challenge and potential of contemporary feminist and postcolonial engagements with the medium The volume is organised in thematic sections that present the lives and work of historically significant yet overlooked women photographers as well as the work of acclaimed contemporary African women photographers such as H la Ammar Fatoumata Diabat Lebohang Kganye and Zanele Muholi The book offers critical reflections on the politics of gendered knowledge production and the production of racialised and gendered identities and alternative and subaltern subjectivities Several chapters illuminate how contemporary African women photographers collectors and curators are engaging with colonial photographic archives to contest stereotypical forms of representation and produce powerful counter histories Raising critical questions about race gender and the history of photography the collection provides a model for interdisciplinary feminist approaches for scholars and students of art history visual studies and African history      Love and Revolution in the Twentieth-Century Colonial and Postcolonial World

G. Arunima, Patricia Hayes, Premesh Lalu, 2021-10-27 This book addresses emancipatory narratives from two main sites in the colonial world the Indian and southern African subcontinents Exploring how love and revolution interrelate this volume is unique in drawing on theories of affect to interrogate histories of the political thus linking love and revolution together The chapters engage with the affinities of those who live with their colonial pasts crises of expectations colonial national convulsions memories of anti colonial solidarity even shared radical libraries It calls attention to the specific and singular way in which notions of love of the world were born in a precise moment of anti colonial struggle a love of the world for which one would offer one's life and for which there had been little precedent in the history of earlier revolutions It thus offers new ways of understanding the shifts in global traditions of emancipation over two centuries 1986 William Dicey, 2020-12-01 1986 was a pivotal year in South African history It was the year of the vigilante the year of the necklace but also the year the talking began Drawing on newspaper articles memoirs and little known histories William Dicey presents a compelling diary of a very bad year He focuses on ordinary people showing what life was actually like under an authoritarian regime from the six hours a day that black workers in KwaNdebele spent on buses to the rebel sporting tours that provided a distraction for white South Africans Some stories foreshadow the miracle of 1990 for instance the deputy commander of Pollsmoor Prison takes Nelson Mandela on a scenic drive around Cape Town years before his eventual release Other stories shine a light on our current conflicts Written in crisp prose 1986 is a model of historical excavation deftly evoking the spirit of the times Pitch Battles Peter Hain, Andre Odendaal, 2021-09-01 There will be a black Springbok over my dead body Dr Danie Craven President of the South African Rugby Board 1969 Just a year after the controversial D Oliveira affair the organised disruption of the all white 1969-70 South African rugby and cricket tours to Britain represented a significant challenge to apartheid politics Led by future cabinet minister Peter Hain the Stop the Seventy Tour campaign brought about the cancellation of both tours presaging white South Africa's expulsion from the Olympics and the end of apartheid sport altogether With his brand of attention grabbing direct action sports protest the 19 year old Hain emerged as a hero to some and enemy to others Now reflecting on these experiences with fifty years of hindsight Lord Hain together with South Africa's foremost sports historian and fellow anti apartheid activist Andr Odendaal shows how decades of relentless international and domestic campaigning for equality led to a Springbok team captained by black athlete Siya Kolisi winning the 2019 Rugby World Cup Interspersing a wide range of examples with personal testimony Pitch Battles explores the themes of sport globalisation and resistance from the deep past to the present day Published in the same year as the Stop The Tour documentary from acclaimed director Louis Myles this compelling story of sacrifice struggle and triumph reveals how sport should never be divorced from politics or society's values
