Approaches To Faunal Analysis In The Middle East Peabody Museum Bulletin:

Approaches to faunal analysis in the Middle East Richard H. Meadow, 1978 Archaeozoology of Southwest Asia and Adjacent Areas XIII Remi Berthon, Julie Daujat, Angelos Hadjikoimis, 2021-11-01 Southwest Asia is at the epicenter of zooarchaeological research on pivotal changes in human history such as animal domestication and the emergence of social complexity This volume continues the long tradition of the ASWA conference series in publishing new research results in the zooarchaeology of southwest Asia and adjacent areas The book is organized in three thematic areas The first presents new methodological tools and approaches in the study of animal remains exemplified through studies on domestication butchery practices microdebris intrasite contextual comparisons and age at death recording Besides offering interesting insights into our past these methodological developments enable higher resolution for future research The second section focuses on the subsistence economies of prehistoric and early complex societies and provides new insights into how animal management developed in southwest Asia The third section includes intriguing new research results on the roles of animals in the symbolic world of ancient societies such as the meaning of insect figures at Gobekli Tepe animal cults in Egypt feasting in Iron Age Oman and the ornithological interpretation of Byzantine mosaics The Walking Larder Juliet

Clutton-Brock, 2014-10-30 This book is one of a series of more than 20 volumes resulting from the World Archaeological Congress September 1986 attempting to bring together not only archaeologists and anthropologists from many parts of the world as well as academics from contingent disciplines but also non academics from a wide range of cultural backgrounds This text looks at human animal interactions especially some of the less well known aspects of the field A number of studies in the book document some of the vast changes humankind has wrought upon the natural environment through the movement of various species of animals around the world These chapters provide contributions to the understanding of contemporary ecological problems especially the deforestation taking place to provide grazing for live stock The 31 contributions offer a shop window of approaches primarily from a biological perspective The World of the Oxus

Civilization Bertille Lyonnet, Nadezhda Dubova, 2020-11-17 This collection of essays presents a synthesis of current research on the Oxus Civilization which rose and developed at the turn of the 3rd to 2nd millennia BC in Central Asia First discovered in the 1970s the Oxus Civilization or the Bactria Margiana Archaeological Complex BMAC has engendered many different interpretations which are explored in this volume by an international group of archaeologists and researchers Contributors cover all aspects of this fascinating Bronze Age culture architecture material culture grave goods religion migrations and trade and interactions with neighboring civilizations from Mesopotamia to the Indus and the Gulf to the northern steppes Chapters also examine the Oxus Civilization's roots in previous local cultures explore its environmental and chronological context or the possibly coveted metal sources and look into the reasons for its decline The World of the Oxus Civilization offers a broad and fascinating examination of this society and provides an invaluable updated resource for anyone working on the culture history and archaeology of this region and on the multiple interactions at work at that time in the ancient Near East

Documenting Domestication Melinda A. Zeder, 2006-06-20 A genetic revolution has transformed the study of the domestication of plants and animals Documenting Domestication presents the best research and resolves issues that had been intractable in the past Richard I Ford University of Michigan Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan James R. Battenfield, Susan Ellis, Peter R.W. Popkin, 2016-08-01 In Excavations at Tall Jawa Jordan Volume 5 the authors present their research in the areas of regional survey salvage excavation zooarchaeology ceramic typology experimental archaeology and ethnoarchaeology This work illustrates areas threatened and later destroyed by modern development and is a contribution to heritage documentation These studies illuminate aspects of family and town life in the Iron Age Roman Byzantine and Late Ottoman Early Mandate periods in central Jordan

Camels in the Biblical World Martin Heide, Joris Peters, 2021-10-26 Camels are first mentioned in the Bible as the movable property of Abraham During the early monarchy they feature prominently as long distance mounts for the Queen of Sheba and almost a millennium later the Gospels tell us about the impossibility of a camel passing through a needle's eye Given the limited extrabiblical evidence for camels before circa 1000 BCE a thorough investigation of the spatio-temporal history of the camel in the ancient Near and Middle East is necessary to understand their early appearance in the Hebrew Bible Camels in the Biblical World is a two-part study that charts the cultural trajectories of two domestic species the two humped or Bactrian camel Camelus bactrianus and the one humped or Arabian camel Camelus dromedarius from the fourth through first millennium BCE and up to the first century CE Drawing on archaeological camel remains iconography inscriptions and other text sources the first part reappraises the published data on the species domestication and early exploitation in their respective regions of origin The second part takes a critical look at the various references to camels in the Hebrew Bible and the Gospels providing a detailed philological analysis of each text and referring to archaeological data and zoological observations whenever appropriate A state-of-the-art evaluation of the cultural history of the camel and its role in the biblical world this volume brings the humanities into dialogue with the natural sciences The novel insights here serve scholars in disciplines as diverse as biblical studies zoo archaeology history and philology

The Agricultural Revolution in Prehistory Graeme Barker, 2009 Addressing one of the most debated revolutions in the history of our species the change from hunting and gathering to farming this title takes a global view and integrates an array of information from archaeology and many other disciplines including anthropology botany climatology genetics linguistics and zoology Advances in Archaeological Method and Theory Michael B Schiffer, 2014-06-30 Advances in Archaeological Method and Theory Volume 5 presents the progressive explorations in methods and theory in archaeology This book provides information pertinent to the developments in urban archaeology Organized into nine chapters this volume begins with an overview of cultural resource management developed to assess the significance of and to manage the cultural resources on public lands This text then explores the basic aspects of natural and human caused changes on the portion of the archaeological resource base consisting of archaeological sites Other chapters consider the practice of urban archeology in the United States with emphasis on the relationships between human behavior and material culture in an urban setting This book discusses as well the applications of computer graphics in archeology The final chapter deals with the types of skeletal and population changes that accompany malnutrition This book is a valuable resource for anthropologist archaeologists urban planners and graduate students Archaeology as Human Ecology Karl W. Butzer, 1982-05-31

Archaeology as Human Ecology is a new introduction to concepts and methods in archaeology It deals not with artifacts but with sites settlements and subsistence It is essential reading for students research workers and all concerned with archaeological method and theory
