Archaeological Field Survey In Cyprus Past History Future Potentials Proceedings:

Archaeological Field Survey in Cyprus Maria Iakōvou, 2004 The volume contains fifteen papers Ten of them record the genesis and the development of archaeological survey in Cyprus they also discuss the reasons why the twentieth century ended with serious set backs in the protection of cultural landscapes despite the fact that in Cyprus survey was conducted in the name of archaeological resource management as early as 1955 The credit for this accomplishment goes to Hector Catling who had envisioned the island wide Cyprus Survey Project and was instrumental in establishing the Survey Branch in the Cyprus Department of Antiquities The biographies of eight very different projects offer a representative sample of survey archaeology in Cyprus in the last quarter of the 20th century The inclusion of four geographically and methodologically diverse projects from Israel Libya Italy and Greece provide a trans Mediterranean perspective against which survey archaeology in Cyprus can be measured The keynote paper John Cherry brings the Mediterranean and the local projects closer together and gives substance to a multifaceted dialogue which extends from visibility and the degree of isomorphism between surface and sub surface remains to the links between regional survey projects and cultural heritage management

New Directions in Cypriot Archaeology Catherine Kearns, Sturt W. Manning, 2019-04-15 New Directions in Cypriot Archaeology highlights current scholarship that employs a range of new techniques methods and theoretical approaches to questions related to the archaeology of the prehistoric and protohistoric periods on the island of Cyprus From revolutions in radiocarbon dating to the compositional analysis of ceramic remains to the digital applications used to study landscape histories at broad scales to rethinking human environment climate interrelationships the last few decades of research on Cyprus invite inquiry into the implications of these novel archaeological methods for the field and its future directions This edited volume gathers together a new generation of scholars who offer a revealing exploration of these insights as well as challenges to big questions in Cypriot archaeology such as the rise of social complexity urban settlement histories and changes in culture and identity These enduring topics provide the foundation for investigating the benefits and challenges of twenty first century methods and conceptual frameworks Divided into three main sections related to critical chronological transitions from earliest prehistory to the development of autonomous kingdoms during the Iron Age each contribution exposes and engages with a different advance in studies of material culture absolute dating paleoenvironmental analysis and spatial studies using geographic information systems From rethinking the chronological transitions of the Early Bronze Age to exploring regional craft production regimes of the Middle and Late Bronze Ages to locating Iron Age cemeteries through archival topographic maps these exciting and pioneering authors provide innovative ways of thinking about Cypriot archaeology and its relationship to the wider discipline List of Contributors Georgia M Andreou Postdoctoral Fellow Department of Classics Cornell University Stella Diakou Postdoctoral Fellow Archaeological Research Unit University of Cyprus Maria Dikomitou Eliadou Postdoctoral Fellow Archaeological Research Unit University of Cyprus David Frankel Panayides, Ine Jacobs, 2023-01-24 Cyprus was a thriving and densely populated late antique province Contrary to what used to be thought the Arab raids of the mid seventh century did not abruptly bring the island's prosperity to an end Recent research instead highlights long lasting continuity in both urban and rural contexts This volume brings together historians and archaeologists working on diverse aspects of Cyprus between the sixth and eighth centuries They discuss topics as varied as rural prosperity urban endurance artisanal production civic and private religion and maritime connectivity The role of the imperial administration and of the Church is touched upon in several contributions Other articles place Cyprus back into its wider Mediterranean context Together they produce a comprehensive impression of the quality of life on the island in the long late antiquity Landscapes in the Eastern Mediterranean between the Future and the Past Ioannis N.

Vogiatzakis, Theano S. Terkenli, Maria Gabriella Trovato, Nizar Abu-Jaber, 2020-05-15 Landscapes have long been viewed as multifunctional integrating ecological economic sociocultural historical and aesthetic dimensions Landscape science and public awareness in Europe have been progressing in leaps and bounds The challenges involved in landscape related issues and fields however are multiple and refer to landscape stewardship and protection as well as to the development of comprehensive theoretical and methodological approaches in tandem with public sensitization and participatory governance and in coordination with appropriate top down planning and policy instruments Landscape scale approaches are fundamental to the understanding of past and present cultural evolution and are now considered to be an appropriate spatial framework for the analysis of sustainability Methods and tools of landscape analysis and intervention have also gone a long way since their early development in Europe and the United States Although significant progress has been made there remain many issues which are understudied or not investigated at all at least in a Mediterranean context This Special Issue addresses the application of landscape theory and practice in the Eastern Mediterranean and mainly but not exclusively reports on the outcomes of an international conference held in Jordan in December 2015 with the title Landscapes of Eastern Mediterranean Challenges Opportunities Prospects and Accomplishments The focus of this Special Issue landscapes of the Eastern Mediterranean region thus constitutes a timely area of research interest not only because these landscapes have so far been understudied but also as a rich site of strikingly variegated long standing multicultural human environmental interactions These interactions resting on and taking shape through millennia of continuity in tradition have been striving to adapt to technological advances while currently juggling with manifold and multilayered socioeconomic and climate environmental crises

Religion and Social Transformations in Cyprus Giorgos Papantoniou, 2012-10-19 By focusing on religion this monograph represents the first extended attempt to explore how the socio cultural infrastructure of Cyprus was affected by the transition from segmented administration by many Cypriot kings to the island wide government by a foreign Ptolemaic correspondent

The Rural Landscapes of Archaic Cyprus Catherine Kearns, 2022-12-15 Examines the archaeology of landscapes environments and rural communities that constituted the transformative Archaic period on Cyprus

Church Building in Cyprus (Fourth to Seventh Centuries) Marietta Horster, Doria Nicolaou, Sabine Rogge, 2018

Some hundred early Christian churches are attested on Cyprus dating from the fourth to seventh centuries Their architectural remains have shaped the Cypriot landscape The peculiar evolution of the features of the Cypriot church gave rise to a scientific discussion on how to evaluate these specific local developments In the last decade individual research as well as conferences and workshops dedicated to late antiquity and the early Byzantine period have contributed towards a new approach and a new impulse for the study of this period in Cyprus The volume reinforces and furthers this trend taking into consideration relevant parameters reflected on the architectural planning such as structural knowledge and innovations cultic behaviours liturgical traditions economic capacities social and political aspirations Based on current developments in research new findings in Cyprus and the focus on intercultural contacts the volume is organised into four different sections

- 1 Building the Christian cityscape and landscape
- 2 Christian communities and church building fourth to seventh centuries
- 3 Interior arrangement and theological concepts
- 4 International Byzantine Style Local traditions and adaptations in and outside Cyprus
