

Handwritten text in a script, likely Tibetan, arranged in horizontal lines across the page. The text is written in a dark ink or pigment on a light-colored, textured background. The script is highly stylized and appears to be a form of Manichaean or similar ancient script. The text is organized into several distinct sections, separated by horizontal lines and some decorative elements. The top section contains a few lines of text, followed by a larger block of text in the middle, and a final section at the bottom. The text is written in a way that suggests it is a formal document or a religious text, possibly a prayer or a record of a ceremony.
