Arab Industrialization In Israel Ethnic Entrepreneurship In The Periphery:

Arab Industrialization in Israel Izhak Schnell, Michael Sofer, Israel Drori, 1995-10-30 This study focuses on the obstacles that Arab entrepreneurs must overcome in their attempt to industrialize and to integrate into Israel's larger economy

The Israeli Economy from the Foundation of the State through the 21st Century Paul Rivlin, 2010-11-15 This book analyzes the development of the Israeli economy in its historical context. It shows how the ideology of the dominant group in the Zionist movement led to the development of agriculture thus meeting the preconditions for successful industrialization. Remarkable if uneven growth has taken place with increasing allocations for defense. Regional isolation led to the emphasis on high quality exports for developed markets that has stimulated the technological base. Israel has benefited from mass immigration and increased access to foreign capital factors that have transformed the economy. The book includes chapters on the development of the Jewish community in Palestine during the British Mandate, macroeconomic developments and economic policy, globalization and high technology, defense, the economics of the Arab minority, Israeli settlements and relations with the Palestinians and the role of religion. It concludes with an examination of the socioeconomic divisions that have widened as the economy has grown.

Ethnic Conflict and Protest in Tibet and Xinjiang Ben Hillman, Gray Tuttle, 2016-04-05 Despite more than a decade of rapid economic development, rising living standards and large scale improvements in infrastructure and services, China's western borderlands are awash in a wave of ethnic unrest not seen since the 1950s. Through on the ground interviews and firsthand observations, the international experts in this volume create an invaluable record of the conflicts and protests as they have unfolded, the most extensive chronicle of events to date. The authors examine the factors driving the unrest in Tibet and Xinjiang and the political strategies used to suppress them. They also explain why certain areas have seen higher concentrations of ethnic based violence than others. Essential reading for anyone struggling to understand the origins of unrest in contemporary Tibet and Xinjiang, this volume considers the role of propaganda and education as generators and sources of conflict. It links interethnic strife to economic growth and connects environmental degradation to increased instability. It captures the subtle difference between violence in urban Xinjiang and conflict in rural Tibet with detailed portraits of everyday individuals caught among the pressures of politics, history, personal interest and global movements with local resonance.

Socioeconomic Inequality in Israel Nabil Khattab, Sami Miaari, Haya Stier, 2016-04-29 This volume addresses different aspects and areas of inequality in Israel, a country characterized by high levels of economic inequality, poverty and social diversity. The book expands on the mechanisms that produce and maintain inequality and the role of state policies in influencing those mechanisms.

Stratification in Israel Moshe Semyonov, 2019-01-22 Until recently, issues surrounding ethnic linked inequality, whether between Jews and Arabs or between Jewish ethnic groups, have dominated research on stratification in Israel to the exclusion of other dimensions. Rapidly growing inequality in Israeli society and its intergenerational persistence, however, have generated several new trends in research The chapters included in this volume represent the range and depth of recent developments in the study of social stratification mobility and inequality Although they address a variety of issues they have in common a focus on the institutional mechanisms that govern the allocation of rewards

Facing Barriers Vered Kraus,Yuval P. Yonay,2018-03-22 Palestinian women have slowly become active in the formal labor market in Israel In this book Vered Kraus and Yuval Yonay describe and analyse the labor experience of these Palestinian women and explain why Palestinian and Jewish women have different rates and outcomes in the labor market Challenging popular views that ascribe these differences to Arab culture and Islam they instead find that it is state policies and widespread discrimination that hinder Palestinian women s participation and success By including the various Palestinian sub groups Muslims Bedouins Druze Christians non citizen residents of Jerusalem this book shows how the specific life circumstances of the women from these subgroups affect their employment and achievements The book thus enriches the acute discussion on the labour market experiences of Muslim and Arab women in the Middle East and North Africa and in advanced industrialized societies

Dilemmas of Regional and Local Development Jerzy Bański,2020-02-13 Dilemmas of Regional and Local Development aims to identify diagnose and evaluate various approaches towards regional and local socio economic development Over the course of the book authors from 12 countries and four continents come together to review experiences and solutions related to regional development in a range of different economic social and political systems The first part of the volume focuses on the fundamentals of planning regional and local development particularly focusing on theoretical solutions and development policy concepts The second part is more applied looking at practical instruments and solutions for shaping the local economy and analysing effective development policy This book will be of interest to economics geography politics and planning scholars and researchers working on regional sciences and local development

Southern Economic Journal ,1997 Contains section Book reviews

Palestinians in the Israeli Labor Market N. Khattab,S. Miaari,2013-08-13 Bringing together important contributions from leading Israeli Jewish and Palestinian scholars this comprehensive and multi disciplinary volume addresses the most recent developments and outcomes of the labor market integration of the Palestinian minority inside Israel

The Seam Line Israel Drori,2000 Many Arab communities in Israel s Galilee region are home to export oriented textile factories owned by multinational corporations whose Jewish managers employ local Arab and Druze women as seamstresses and low level work supervisors Based on five years of ethnographic research this book explores how these managers and workers negotiate the terms and meanings of factory work integrating work culture with the norms and values of the host towns in order for employment arrangements to succeed The entrance of industrial corporations into developing areas of the world particularly in those industries employing primarily women has generated tension between traditional familial and social roles and the demands of industrial working life In Israel these tensions are further complicated by the social and political dynamics of Arab Jewish conflict as well as the strictly demarcated roles of women and men in traditional

Arab society The resolution of these tensions on the shop floor shapes the social relations of production the factories management systems family life in the industrial towns and individual status and autonomy The negotiation involves unequal power relations manifested in a dual patriarchal structure the Arab cultural practice of male domination of women as well as the formal management system of the textile concern which dictates the nature of relationships between Jewish managers and Arab women workers To meet their business goals the managers must cooperate with the community that provides their workforce adapting its norms and appropriating its worldview The managers are constrained by the strict social rules of Arab and Druse society and respond by attempting to harness and manipulate local family values to foster personal commitment furthering production goals through paternal control The consequence of this paternalism is a workforce that relates to the organization as family identifies with its goals and internalizes feelings of loyalty However the workforce also uses the plant as the arena for developing self awareness and enhancing personal independence and status within the family The seamstresses emerge as active shapers of the organizational culture forcing the managers to adapt to and comply with their personal needs and perceptions of work
