Organizations Patrick R. Myers, 2013-08-21 First Published in 1993 Succession between international organizations is a controversial topic What is it about the topic that provokes such diverse reactions Is there really such a thing as succession between international organizations Does it resemble any other form of succession or is it something completely different The present study is an attempt to shed some light on this little known area of international law Regional Organizations and Peacemaking Peter Wallensteen, Anders Björner, 2014-08-21 This book analyses the new and difficult roles of regional organizations in peacemaking after the end of the Cold War and how they relate to the United Nations UN Regional organizations have taken an increasingly prominent role in international efforts to deal with international security The book highlights the complex interaction between the regional and sub regional organizations on the one hand and their relations with the United Nations on the other Thus the general issues of UN and its authority are scrutinized from legal practical and geopolitical perspectives Taking on a broad geographical focus on Africa the Arab world and Europe the book also provides an extensive range of case studies with detailed analysis of particular situations organizations and armed conflicts The authors scrutinise the heterogeneous relationship between the different organizations as well as the challenges to them

political resources legal standing financial assets capabilities and organizational set up Moreover they investigate whether regional organizations as compared to the UN are better suited to deal with today's intra state conflicts The book also aims to dissect the evolution of these institutions historically in relation to Chapter VIII of the UN Charter which mentions the resort to regional arrangements for conflict management as well as more generally in relation to the principles of international law and UN principles of peacemaking This book written by a mixture of established scholars diplomats and high level policymakers will be of great interest to students as well as practitioners in the field of peace and conflict studies regional security international organisations conflict management and IR in general

Comecon J. J. Brine, 1992 Comecon or the Council for Mutual Economic Assistance was founded by Joseph Stalin in 1949 to counteract the Marshall Plan and reinforce the bonds between the Soviet Union and the people's democracies of Eastern Europe Other Soviet Bloc nations later joined Comecon and for forty years it dominated the trade policies of the Soviet Bloc and profoundly influenced their domestic economic development and relations with the West Comecon collapsed in 1991 after the countries of Eastern Europe rejected communism It was often compared with the West European Common Market but differed vastly in its aims structure powers and activities Its influence is a critical factor in assessing both the economic failures of the Soviet Bloc and the problems facing former member states as they make the transition to free market economies This detailed annotated bibliography is an essential guide to the extensive English language literature about Comecon from its founding until its demise Chapters cover Comecon's history structure and law socialist economic integration the organization's arrangements for international trade and finance environment natural resources and energy labor industry and agriculture science and technology Comecon like the rest of the Soviet Bloc collapsed suddenly but its legacy will color international relations and worldwide economic issues for years to come An understanding of its institutions mechanisms and policies remains vital in appreciating the economic organization of the former Soviet empire This bibliography will therefore be indispensable to policymakers economists historians and political scientists

Regional Organisations and Security Stephen Aris, Andreas Wenger, 2013-10-30 This book aims to examine the conceptions and practices of security adopted by Regional Organisations ROs across the globe Since the end of the Cold War there has been an increased focus on regions as a relevant realm for security with actors within regional contexts identifying a significant degree of interdependency between one another As a consequence international security has taken on a distinct regionally institutionalised character as seen by the increase in calls for greater utilisation of Chapter VIII Regional Arrangements of the UN in order to create a devolved UN led system of global security management However the idea of a system of global security management is a remote prospect because divergence seems to be as important as commonality in terms of regional security In light of the above Regional Organisations and Security analyses the primary ROs that are active in Africa Asia Eurasia the Middle East and South America The findings of individual case studies are compiled to highlight disparities and similarities in how security is seen prioritised understood practised managed and implemented across regions On this basis the authors reach conclusions about whether we live in an increasingly globalised or regionally distinct world and go on to assess the prospects for a globalised system of security management and consider how this might be developed and organised This book will be of interest to students of comparative regionalism international organisations international security and IR GLOBAL SECURITY AND INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL ECONOMY - Volume I P.Bilgin, P.D.
