Social and Gender Inequality in Oman Khalid M. Al-Azri, 2013 Looking at the social political and legal changes in Oman since 1970 this book challenges the Islamic and tribal traditional cultural norms relating to marriage divorce and women s rights which guide social and legal practice in the modern Omani state The book argues that despite the establishment of legal instruments guaranteeing equality for all citizens the fact that the state depends upon Islamic and tribal elites for its legitimacy invalidates these guarantees in practice Two particular features of the legal and cultural regulation of marriage and marital rights are focused on the perceived requirement for kafa aor equality in marriage between so called high and low socio economic status peoples is examined and the institution of talaq which grants greater rights to men than to women in appeals for divorce This book addresses highly complex subjects with great rigor in terms of empirical research and engagement with theory sociological and political as well as theological and legal It is an interesting investigation of the divisions of authority between the state Islam and tribal norms highlighting barriers to reform in both Oman and wider Islamic society and advocating the removal of such obstacles

Kuwait and Al-Sabah Rivka Azoulay, 2020-07-23 The Emirate of Kuwait hardly resembles the city State it was at the start of the 20th century The discovery of oil in 1938 rapidly transformed the tiny tribal sheikhdom of the Al Sabah into a modern oil producing state where by the early 1980s citizens were enjoying one of the highest standards of living in the world While much has been written on the reasons why and how the Al Sabah became a ruling dynasty little is known about the nature of their authority and its relationship to Kuwait's social structure Rivka Azoulay shows how despite the rapidity of change in the oil rich family run emirate it is the pre oil dynamics of social and political life that dictate how society operates The author shows that Kuwait's ambitious diversification plans to reduce oil dependence by 2035 require a renegotiation of the regime's pact with society which threatens the pre oil alliances upon which the Al Sabah's regime has been built

Imagining the Arabs Webb Peter Webb, 2016-05-31 Who are the Arabs When did people begin calling themselves Arabs And what was the Arabs role in the rise of Islam Investigating these core questions about Arab identity and history by marshalling the widest array of Arabic sources employed hitherto and by closely interpreting the evidence with theories of identity and ethnicity Imagining the Arabs proposes new answers to the riddle of Arab origins and fundamental reinterpretations of early Islamic history This book reveals that the time honoured stereotypes which depict Arabs as ancient Arabian Bedouin are entirely misleading because the essence of Arab identity was in fact devised by Muslims during the first centuries of Islam Arab identity emerged and evolved as groups imagined new notions of community to suit the radically changing circumstances of life in the early Caliphate The idea of the Arab was a device which Muslims utilised to articulate their communal identity to negotiate post Conquest power relations and to explain the rise of Islam Over Islam's first four centuries political elites genealogists poetry collectors historians and grammarians all participated in a vibrant process of imagining and re imagining Arab identity and history and the sum of their works established a powerful tradition that influences Middle Eastern communities to the present day
