Baby Girl's Hoodlife Herman Fontenette, 2014-03-10 The story is about a teenaged girl who was raised in an dysfunctional home The man who she thought was her biological father left home to search for a better way to provide for his family as her mother introduced the innocent child to her real father who she never met It was quite obvious the stranger was someone related to her Rishona resembled him greatly The man called her his baby girl as she began to rebel against her mother and her biological father as she became troubled only to join a street gang Through time life in her household began to further deteriorate as her mother became incarcerated after an attempted murder Rishona was adopted by an holy rolling Pentecostal family The childless couple was astounded by the child's innocent look but was unaware of her past After a few years of trying to fit in with her prosperous God fearing foster parents Rishona decided to revisit her old friends in the Hood Unfortunately her desire to be with her old gang was a bad decision as the leaders of the 4 3 gangster group orchestrated a plan to rob Rishona's new living quarters Gracefully the Almighty was on her side She and one of the thugs in the robbery escaped to the city where she was well kept by his religious aunt However Aunt Bea had a live in daughter who was known in the Hood for making quick money introduced the young stranger in her home to robbery of potential Johns Gracefully God saved her from the streetlife as she returned home to her born again family to rejoice in her victory

The Violence of Love Kit W. Myers, 2025-01-28 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more The Violence of Love challenges the narrative that adoption is a solely loving act that benefits birth parents adopted individuals and adoptive parents a narrative that is especially pervasive with transracial and transnational adoptions Using interdisciplinary methods of archival legal and discursive analysis Kit W Myers comparatively examines the adoption of Asian Black and Native American children by White families in the United States He shows how race has been constructed relationally to mark certain homes families and nations as spaces of love freedom and better futures in contrast to others that are not and argues that violence is attached to adoption in complex ways Propelled by different types of love such adoptions attempt to transgress biological racial cultural and national borders established by traditional family ideals Yet they are also linked to structural symbolic and traumatic forms of violence The Violence of Love confronts this discomforting reality and rethinks theories of family to offer more capacious understandings of love kinship and care
