Folktales of the Jews, V. 3 (Tales from Arab Lands) Dan Ben Amos, 2011-05-01 Thanks to these generous donors for making the publication of the books in this series possible Lloyd E Cotsen The Maurice Amado Foundation National Endowment for the Humanities and the National Foundation for Jewish Culture Tales from Arab Lands presents tales from North Africa Yemen Lebanon Syria and Iraq in the latest volume of the most important collection of Jewish folktales ever published This is the third book in the multi volume series in the tradition of Louis Ginzberg's timeless classic Legends of the Jews The tales here and the others in this series have been selected from the Israel Folktale Archives IFA named in Honor of Dov Noy at The University of Haifa a treasure house of Jewish lore that has remained largely unavailable to the entire world until now Since the creation of the State of Israel the IFA has collected more than 20 000 tales from newly arrived immigrants long lost stories shared by their families from around the world The tales come from the major ethno linguistic communities of the Jewish world and are representative of a wide variety of subjects and motifs especially rich in Jewish content and context Each of the tales is accompanied by in depth commentary that explains the tale's cultural historical and literary background and its similarity to other tales in the IFA collection and extensive scholarly notes There is also an introduction that describes the culture and its folk narrative tradition a world map of the areas covered illustrations biographies of the collectors and narrators tale type and motif indexes a subject index and a comprehensive bibliography Until the establishment of the IFA we had had only limited access to the wide range of Jewish folk narratives Even in Israel the gathering place of the most wide ranging cross section of world Jewry these folktales have remained largely unknown Many of the communities no longer exist as cohesive societies in their representative lands the Holocaust migration and changes in living styles have made the continuation of these tales impossible This series is a monument to a rich but vanishing oral tradition This series is a monument to a rich but vanishing oral tradition Assyria and the West Pieter van der Veen, Ronald Wallenfels, 2025-07-10 This volume re-examines key chronological anchors of the Late Bronze and Iron Ages questioning the reliability of synchronisms between Egypt and Mesopotamia Focusing on artistic archaeological and historical data the contributors explore shifting timelines and tensions in Assyrian Hittite and Levantine contexts Tied and Bound: A Comparative View on Manuscript Binding Alessandro Bausi, Michael Friedrich, 2023-08-07 The present volume contains twelve chapters authored by specialists of Asian African and European manuscript cultures reflecting on the cohesion of written artefacts particularly manuscripts Assuming that codicological units exist in every manuscript culture and that they are usually composed of discrete elements such as clay tablets papyrus sheets bamboo slips parchment bifolios palm leaves the issue of the cohesion of the constituents is a general one The volume presents a series of case studies on devices and strategies adopted to achieve this cohesion by manuscript cultures distant in space from China to West Africa and time from the third millennium bce to the present This comparative view provides the frame for the understanding of a phenomenon that appears to be of essential importance for the study of the structure of written artefacts. Regardless of the way in which cohesion is realised, all strategies and devices that allow the constituents to be kept together are subsumed under the term binding. Thus it is possible to highlight similarities, convergences and unique physical and technical methods adopted by various manuscript cultures to face a common challenge.

Between Two Rivers Moudhy Al-Rashid, 2025-08-12

Humanity's earliest efforts at recording and drawing meaning from history reveal how lives millennia ago were not so different from our own. Thousands of years ago in a part of the world we now call ancient Mesopotamia, people began writing things down for the very first time. What they left behind in a vast region between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers preserves leaps in human ingenuity like the earliest depiction of a wheel and the first approximation of pi. But they also capture breathtakingly intimate, raw and relatable moments like a dog's paw prints as it accidentally stepped into fresh clay or the imprint of a child's teeth. In Between Two Rivers, historian Dr Moudhy Al Rashid reveals what these ancient people chose to record about their lives, allowing us to brush hands with them millennia later. We find a lullaby to soothe a baby, instructions for exorcising a ghost, countless receipts for beer and the messy writing of preschoolers. We meet an enslaved person negotiating their freedom, an astronomer tracing the movement of the planets, a princess who may have created the world's first museum and a working mother struggling with the juggle in 1900 BCE. Millennia ago, Mesopotamians saw the world's first cities, the first writing system, early seeds of agriculture and groundbreaking developments in medicine and astronomy. With breathtaking intimacy and grace, Al Rashid brings their lives with all their anxieties, aspirations and intimacies vividly close to our own.

Divination and Human Nature Peter Struck, 2018-10-23

Divination and Human Nature casts a new perspective on the rich tradition of ancient divination: the reading of divine signs in oracles, omens and dreams. Popular attitudes during classical antiquity saw these readings as signs from the gods, while modern scholars have treated such beliefs as primitive superstitions. In this book, Peter Struck reveals instead that such phenomena provoked an entirely different accounting from the ancient philosophers. These philosophers produced subtle studies into what was an odd but observable fact: that humans could sometimes have uncanny insights, and their work signifies an early chapter in the cognitive history of intuition. Examining the writings of Plato, Aristotle, the Stoics and the Neoplatonists, Struck demonstrates that they all observed how, setting aside the charlatans and swindlers, some people had premonitions defying the typical bounds of rationality. Given the wide differences among these ancient thinkers, Struck notes that they converged on seeing this surplus insight as an artifact of human nature: projections produced under specific conditions by our physiology. For the philosophers, such unexplained insights invited a speculative search for an alternative and more naturalistic system of cognition. Recovering a lost piece of an ancient tradition, Divination and Human Nature illustrates how philosophers of the classical era interpreted the phenomena of divination as a practice closer to intuition and instinct than magic.

Assyrian and Babylonian Scholarly Text Catalogues Ulrike Steinert, 2018-06-11

compendia and their complex history is still characterised by many difficulties debates and gaps due to fragmentary or unpublished evidence This book offers the first complete edition of the Assur Medical Catalogue an 8th or 7th century BCE list of therapeutic texts which forms a core witness for the serialisation of medical compendia in the 1st millennium BCE The volume presents detailed analyses of this and several other related catalogues of omen series and rituals constituting the corpora of divination and healing disciplines The contributions discuss links between catalogues and textual sources providing new insights into the development of compendia between serialization standardization and diversity of local traditions Though its a novel corpus based approach this volume revolutionizes the current understanding of Mesopotamian medical texts and the healing disciplines of conjurer and physician The research presented here allows one to identify core text corpora for these disciplines as well as areas of exchange and borrowings between them Divination in the Ancient Near East Jeanette C. Fincke, 2014-05-12 This volume contains a collection of revised papers given in the workshop Divination im Alten Orient that was convened on July 22 2008 as part of the 54th Rencontre Assyriologique Internationale in Würzburg The aim of this workshop was to bring together Assyriologists and Hittitologists in order to present and discuss the divination methods of their respective fields most of which had not been studied until recently The large audience that attended the workshop confirmed how wide is the interest in this subject The Oxford Handbook of Science and Medicine in the Classical World Paul Keyser, with John Scarborough, 2018-06-26 With a focus on science in the ancient societies of Greece and Rome including glimpses into Egypt Mesopotamia India and China The Oxford Handbook of Science and Medicine in the Classical World offers an in depth synthesis of science and medicine circa 650 BCE to 650 CE The Handbook comprises five sections each with a specific focus on ancient science and medicine The second section covers the early Greek era up through Plato and the mid fourth century bce The third section covers the long Hellenistic era from Aristotle through the end of the Roman Republic acknowledging that the political shift does not mark a sharp intellectual break The fourth section covers the Roman era from the late Republic through the transition to Late Antiquity The final section covers the era of Late Antiquity including the early Byzantine centuries The Handbook provides through each of its approximately four dozen essays a synthesis and synopsis of the concepts and models of the various ancient natural sciences covering the early Greek era through the fall of the Roman Republic including essays that explore topics such as music theory ancient philosophers astrology and alchemy The Oxford Handbook of Science and Medicine in the Classical World guides the reader to further exploration of the concepts and models of the ancient sciences how they evolved and changed over time and how they relate to one another and to their antecedents There are a total of four dozen or so topical essays in the five sections each of which takes as its focus the primary texts explaining what is now known as well as indicating what future generations of scholars may come to know Contributors suggest the ranges of scholarly disagreements and have been free to advocate their own positions Readers are led into further literature both primary and secondary through the comprehensive and extensive bibliographies provided with each chapter Babylonian Planetary Omens Erica Reiner, 1998 Archaeology of Logic Andrew Schumann, 2023-04-27

The question arises whether logic was given to us by God or whether it is the result of human evolution. I believe that at least the modus ponens rule $A \text{ and if } A \text{ then } B \text{ implies } B$ is inherent in humans but probably many other modern systems e.g. resource logic, non-monotonic logic etc. are the result of humans adapting to the environment. It is therefore of interest to study and compare the way logic is used in ancient cultures as well as the way logic is going to be used in our 21st century. This welcome book studies and compares the way formation of logic in three cultures: Ancient Greek 4th century B.C., Judaic 1st century B.C. 1st century A.D. and Indo-Buddhist 2nd century A.D. The book notes that logic became especially popular during the period of late antiquity in countries covered by the international trade of the Silk Road. This study makes a valuable contribution to the history of logic and to the very understanding of the origins and nature of logical thinking. Prof. Dov Gabbay, King's College London, UK. Andrew Schumann in his book demonstrates that logic step by step arose in different places and cultural circles. He argues that if we apply a structural genealogical method as well as turn to various sources particularly religious, philosophical, linguistic etc. then we can obtain a more general and more adequate picture of emergence and development of logic. This book is a new and very valuable contribution to the history of logic as a manifestation of the human mind. Prof. Jan Wolenski, Jagiellonian University, Poland. The author of the Archaeology of Logic defends the claim that logic is after all which sees logical competence as a practical skill that people began to learn in antiquity as soon as they realized that avoiding cognitive biases in their reasoning would make their daily activities more successful. The in-depth reading of the book with its diving into the comparative quotations in the long dead or hardly known to most of us languages like Sumerian, Akkadian, Aramaic, Hebrew and etc. will be rewarded by the response that the logical competence is diverse and it can be trained despite the inevitability of the reasoning fallacies and that critical discussions and agonial character of the social life are the necessary tools for that.
