Handbook of Trade Policy for Development Arvid Lukauskas, Robert M. Stern, Gianni Zanini, 2013-10-10 There are many textbooks devoted to international trade but few volumes that survey trade theory policy and negotiations in a concise up to date manner from an interdisciplinary perspective This book provides a comprehensive overview of the issues that dominate both academic discourse and the policymaking arena in the field of international trade bringing to bear the insights of economics law and political science It also stands out by virtue of its emphasis on the development implications of trade an increasingly useful perspective given the deepening liberalization of developing and emerging market economies and their growing importance in the world economy The volume examines the full range of trade policy topics that dominate contemporary debates such as rules of origin trade in services competition public procurement and trade facilitation plus emergent controversial topics like trade related labour standards and environmental issues It analyses the international trade architecture and the institutional and practical aspects of policymaking and negotiations at the unilateral multilateral and regional level as well as the effects of trade on economic growth inequality and poverty It also explores the sharp increase in the number of preferential trade agreements and their significance for the global trade system The treatment of each issue is rigorous yet highly accessible to anyone with a basic background in economics law and international political economy

An Introduction to International Economics Kenneth A. Reinert, 2020-08-27 Ideal for a one semester course in international economics this book is accessible to those within and outside of economics programs Trade, Networks and Hierarchies Geoffrey J.D. Hewings, Michael Sonis, David Boyce, 2013-04-18 In 1989 after several years of discussion and negotiation the Regional Economics Applications Laboratory REAL was formed This unique relationship between the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign has been a significant source of intellectual inspiration for many students visiting colleagues and members of the participating institutions for the past decade The idea for REAL was hatched by Philip Israilevich and Geoffrey Hewings in typical Chicago style in the back room of a local bar In early December 1997 their collaboration came to an untimely end when Philip died after a three year battle with cancer The challenge of moving across a spectrum from theory to model development to implementation and interpretation provided the underlying motivation for REAL's formation together with an equally important component namely the translation of many of these efforts into a form that could be understood and implemented by policy makers For Philip REAL and the Regional Science Association International provided the forums for his intellectual endeavors although he also contributed many papers in banking In recognition of his contributions and to provide a sense of the current research in the fields in which he published many of the authors of these chapters assembled in Chicago in November 1998 to participate in a small seminar in his honor Several others who were not able to come nevertheless contributed chapters to this volume Subsequently all of the papers have been revised and updated
