Spanish, Basic Course, Units 1-30 United States Department of State, 1961 Spanish Basic Course Foreign Service Institute (U.S.), Robert P. Stockwell, 1961 The Motivations to Learn English of Mexican Immigrants Maria de F tima Castro, 1993 La Nueva California David Hayes-Bautista, 2004-11-01 Since late 2001 more than fifty percent of the babies born in California have been Latino When these babies reach adulthood they will by sheer force of numbers influence the course of the Golden State This essential study based on decades of data paints a vivid and energetic portrait of Latino society in California by providing a wealth of details about work ethic family strengths business establishments and the surprisingly robust health profile that yields an average life expectancy for Latinos five years longer than that of the general population Spanning one hundred years this complex fascinating analysis suggests that the future of Latinos in California will be neither complete assimilation nor unyielding separatism Instead the development of a distinctive regional identity will be based on Latino definitions of what it means to be American Puerto Rican Discourse Lourdes M. Torres,2013-12-02

Before conclusions about Spanish in the United States can be drawn individual communities must be studied in their own contexts That is the goal of Puerto Rican Discourse One tendency of previous work on Spanish in the United States has been an eagerness to generalize the findings of isolated studies to all Latino communities but the specific sociocultural contexts in which people and languages live often demand very different conclusions The results of Torres work indicate that the Spanish of Puerto Ricans living in Brentwood continues to survive in a restricted context Across the population of Brentwood for Puerto Ricans of all ages and language proficiencies the Spanish language continues to assume an important practical symbolic and affective role An examination of the structural features of 60 oral narratives narrative components and the verbal tenses associated with each overall Spanish verb use and clause complexity reveals little evidence of the simplification and loss across generations found in other studies of Spanish in the United States English dominant Puerto Ricans are able Spanish language narrators demonstrating a wide variety of storytelling skills The structure of their oral narratives is as complete and rich as the narratives of Spanish dominant speakers The content of these oral narratives of personal experience is also explored Too often in studies on U S Spanish sociolinguists ignore the words of the community the focus is usually on the grammatical aspects of language use and rarely on the message conveyed In this study oral narratives are analyzed as constructions of gendered and ethnically marked identities The stories demonstrate the contradictory positions in which many Puerto Ricans find themselves in the United States All of the speakers in this study have internalized to a greater or lesser extent dominant ideologies of gender ethnicity and language at the same time that they struggle against such discourse The analysis of the discourse of the community reveals how the status quo is both reproduced and resisted in the members narratives and how ideological forces work with other factors such as attitudes to influence the choices speakers make concerning language use A special feature of this book is that transcripts are provided in both Spanish and English This volume combines ethnographic quantitative and qualitative discourse methodologies to provide a comprehensive and novel analysis of language use and attitudes of the Brentwood Puerto Rican community Its rich linguistic and ethnographic data will be of interest to researchers and teachers in cultural communication ethnic Hispanic American studies sociolinguistics and TESL Teaching English to Aliens ,1918 Race, Culture, and Identities in Second Language Education Ryuko Kubota,Angel M.Y.
