Mental Health, Crime and the Impact of Criminal Justice on the Vulnerable Bevis E. McNeil,Maria De Angelis,Anthony Ó Donnghaile-Drummond,John Gregson,2024-10-12 This book addresses a variety of key issues surrounding mental health and the criminalization of certain individuals and groups by the Criminal Justice System and the impact this can have on their mental health It challenges the assumption that people with mental health problems are in some way a risk or danger to society and themselves and therefore have a greater propensity for committing crimes when in reality they are more likely to become the victims of crime It argues that the misguided correlations drawn between mental health and crime as perpetuated by the media policy makers clinicians agents of the criminal justice system and ultimately the public lead to the criminalization of the vulnerable Furthermore the criminalization stigmatization stereotyping labelling and discrimination endured by people with mental health problems has a devastating effect on their mental health and well being and has negative consequences for society as a whole Each chapter focuses on a specific area relating to mental health identifying key themes and issues as well as offering recommendations for improvements with regards to the treatment and support for people with mental health problems In addition the treatment of offenders with mental health problems who engage with the criminal justice system and its services such as the police prison and probation services is critically evaluated
