Blood For Dracula Criterion Collection:

Postmodern Vampires Sorcha Ní Fhlainn, 2019-04-25 Postmodern Vampires Film Fiction and Popular Culture is the first major study to focus on American cultural history from the vampire's point of view. Beginning in 1968, Ní Fhlainn argues that vampires move from the margins to the centre of popular culture as representatives of the anxieties and aspirations of their age. Mapping their literary and screen evolution on to the American Presidency from Richard Nixon to Donald Trump, this essential critical study chronicles the vampire's blood ties to distinct socio-political movements and cultural decades in the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries. Through case studies of key texts including Interview with the Vampire, The Lost Boys, Blade, Twilight, Let Me In, True Blood and numerous adaptations of Dracula, this book reveals how vampires continue to be exemplary barometers of political and historical change in the American imagination. It is essential reading for scholars and students in Gothic and Horror Studies, Film Studies and American Studies and for anyone interested in the articulate undead.

Comedy-Horror Films Bruce G. Hallenbeck, 2009-08-11 Fun and fright have long been partners in the cinema, dating back to the silent film era and progressing to the Scary Movie franchise and other recent releases. This guide takes a comprehensive look at the comedy horror movie genre from the earliest stabs at melding horror and hilarity during the nascent days of silent film to its full-fledged development with The Bat in 1926 to the Abbott and Costello films pitting the comedy duo against Frankenstein's Monster, The Mummy and other Universal Studio monsters, continuing to such recent cult hits as Shaun of the Dead and Black Sheep. Selected short films such as Tim Burton's Frankenweenie are also covered. Photos and promotional posters, interviews with actors and a filmography are included.

After Dracula Alison Peirse, 2013-08-28 After Dracula tells of films set in London, music halls and Yorkshire coal mines, South Sea Islands and Hungarian modernist houses of horror with narrators that survey the outskirts of contemporary Paris and travel back in time to ancient Egypt. Alison Peirse argues that Dracula 1931 has been canonised to the detriment of other innovative and original 1930s horror films in Europe and America. By casting out the deified vampire, she reveals a cycle of films made over the 1930s that straddle both the pre and post-regulatory era of the Hays Production Code, a stringent censorship from the British Board of Film Censors. These films are independent and studio productions, literary adaptations, folktales and original screenplays and include Werewolf of London, The Man Who Changed His Mind, Island of Lost Souls and Vampyr. The book considers the horror genre's international evolution during this period, engaging with a number of European horror films that have hitherto received cursory attention. It focuses on the interplay between Continental British and transatlantic contexts and particularly on the intriguing, the obscure and the underrated.
