Blue Room Trauma And Testimony Among Refugee Women A Psychosocial Exploration:

Forced Migration and Mental Health David Ingleby, 2006-01-27 Although forced migration is not new in human history it has become in our time one of the world's major problems. In the last few decades armed conflict and political unrest have created vast numbers of asylum seekers, refugees and displaced persons. This has led in turn to increasing involvement of professional care workers and agencies both governmental and nongovernmental. While there is no doubt on the part of helping parties that care is necessary, there is considerable debate about the kind of care that is needed. This book presents a critical review of mental health care provisions for people who have had to leave their homeland and explores the controversies surrounding this topic. Providing fresh perspectives on an age-old problem, this book covers humanitarian aid and reconstruction programs as well as service provision in host countries. It is of interest to all those who provide health services, create policy and initiate legislation for these populations.

The Psychosocial Wellness of Refugees Frederick L. Ahearn, Jr., 2000-04-01 In recent years, scholars in the fields of refugee studies and forced migration have extended their areas of interest and research into the phenomenon of displacement, human response to it, and ways to intervene to assist those affected, increasingly focusing on the emotional and social impact of displacement on refugees and their adjustment to the traumatic experiences. In the process, the positive concept of psychosocial wellness was developed, as discussed in this volume. In it, noted scholars address the strengths and limitations of their investigations, citing examples from their work with refugees from Afghanistan, Cambodia, Vietnam, Palestine, Cuba, Nicaragua, Haiti, Eastern Europe, Bosnia, and Chile. The authors discuss how they define psychosocial wellness, as well as the issues of sample selection, measurement reliability, and validity; refugee narratives and voices; and the ability to generalize findings and apply these to other populations. The key question that has guided many of these investigations and underlies the premise of this book is: what happens to an ordinary person who has experienced an extraordinary event? This volume also highlights the fact that those involved in such research must also deal with their own emotional responses as they hear victims tell of killing, torture, humiliation, and dispossession. The volume will therefore appeal to practitioners of psychology, psychiatry, social work, nursing, and anthropology. However, its breadth and the evaluation of the strengths and disadvantages of both qualitative and quantitative methods also make it an excellent text for students.

The Blue Room Inger Agger, 1994 Extrait de la couverture This innovative book pioneers a new way of understanding and treating traumatised people. A literary as well as scientific achievement, it draws on interviews with refugee women from the Middle East and Latin America to create a highly original narrative. This is structured around a metaphor of rooms and borders that represent the women's life experiences from girlhood to womanhood and their traumas of imprisonment, torture, and often rape. Inger Agger explores, in particular, the sexual abuse of women seeking to understand how it is related to the surrounding gender and political power structures. Drawing upon ethnography, anthropology, and cultural history, her book provides an interdisciplinary model for the therapeutic understanding and treatment of women not only traumatised by political violence but sexual trauma in general

Trauma and Resilience Among Displaced Populations

Gail Theisen-Womersley, 2021-03-19 This open access book provides an enriched understanding of historical collective cultural and identity related trauma emphasising the social and political location of human subjects It therefore presents a socio ecological perspective on trauma rather than viewing displaced individuals as traumatised passive victims The vastness of the phenomenon of trauma among displaced populations has led it to become a critical and timely area of inquiry and this book is an important addition to the literature It gives an overview of theoretical frameworks related to trauma and migration exploring factors of risk and resilience prevalence rates of PTSD and conceptualisations of trauma beyond psychiatric diagnoses conceptualises experiences of trauma from a sociocultural perspective including collective trauma collective aspirations and collective resilience and provides applications for professionals working with displaced populations in complex institutional legal and humanitarian settings It includes case studies based on the author's own 10 year experience working in emergency contexts with displaced populations in 11 countries across the world This book presents unique data collected by the author herself including interviews with survivors of ISIS attacks with an asylum seeker in Switzerland who set himself alight in protest against asylum procedures and women from the Murle tribe affected by the conflict in South Sudan who experienced an episode of mass fainting spells This is an important resource for academics and professionals working in the field of trauma studies and with traumatised groups and individuals

Human Rights and Narrated Lives K. Schaffer, S. Smith, 2004-08-20 Personal narratives have become one of the most potent vehicles for advancing human rights claims across the world These two contemporary domains personal narrative and human rights literature and international politics are commonly understood to operate on separate planes This study however examines the ways these intersecting realms unfold and are enfolded in one another in ways both productive of and problematic for the achievement of social justice Human Rights and Narrated Lives explores what happens when autobiographical narratives are produced received and circulated in the field of human rights It asks how personal narratives emerge in local settings how international rights discourse enables and constrains individual and collective subjectivities in narration how personal narratives circulate and take on new meanings in new contexts and how and under what conditions they feed into affect and are affected by the reorganizations of politics in the post cold war postcolonial globalizing human rights contexts To explore these intersections the authors attend the production circulation reception and affective currents of stories in action across local national transnational and global arenas They do so by looking at five case studies in the context of the Truth and Reconciliation processes in South Africa the National Inquiry into the Forced Removal of Indigenous Children from their Families in Australia activism on behalf of former comfort women from South East Asia U S prison activism and democratic reforms in the aftermath of the Tiananmen Square Massacre in China

The Psychiatric Evaluation and Treatment of Refugees J. David Kinzie, M.D, George A. Keepers, M.D., 2020-04-28 The Psychiatric Evaluation and Treatment of Refugees is a cutting edge volume of contributions that help mental health professionals better understand the outcomes and solutions for the complicated mix of trauma and immigration with culture and worldview found in the treatment of refugee patients Written by experts in cross cultural psychiatry the book holds a balance between up to date science and the collective experiential wisdom of the Intercultural Psychiatric Program at the Oregon Health Science University providing a key reference for psychiatrists and other mental health professionals working in cross cultural trauma The editors and authors of this volume have contributed to an understanding of the blend of necessary science evidence and compassion that gives mental health providers insight as to how to understand and treat these often traumatized patients

Testimony After Catastrophe Stevan Weine, 2006-08-14 Survivors of political violence give testimonies in families and communities trials and truth commissions religious institutions psychotherapies newspapers documentaries artworks and even in solitude Through spoken written and visual images survivors testimonies tell stories that may change history politics and life itself In this book Stevan Weine a psychiatrist and scholar in the field of mental health and human rights focuses on the testimony of survivors for the hope it might hold hope expressed by survivors again and again that no matter what horrors or humiliations they have endured some good might come of their stories It is through the thinking of Mikhail Bakhtin and his approach to narrative that Weine seeks to read the testimony of survivors of political violence from four different twentieth century historical nightmares and to read them as the stories they are meant to be fully conveying their legitimacy resourcefulness power and finally hope A deeply involving compassionate occasionally confrontational blend of practical hands on experience and dialogic theory emerging from the author's decade long work in Europe and Chicago with survivors of the Balkan wars this book is committed to the proposition that efforts to use testimony to address the consequences of political violence can be strengthened though by no means guaranteed if they are based on a fuller acknowledgment of the personal and ethical elements embodied in the narrative essence of testimony These elements are what Testimony after Catastrophe seeks to reveal

Not Born a Refugee Woman Maroussia Hajdukowski-Ahmed, Nazilla Khanlou, Helene Moussa, 2008-06-01 Not Born a Refugee Woman is an in depth inquiry into the identity construction of refugee women It challenges and rethinks current identity concepts policies and practices in the context of a globalizing environment and in the increasingly racialized post September 11th context from the perspective of refugee women This collection brings together scholar practitioners from across a wide range of disciplines The authors emphasize refugee women's agency resilience and creativity in the continuum of domestic civil and transnational violence and conflicts whether in flight or in resettlement during their uprooted journey and beyond Through the analysis of local examples and international case studies the authors critically examine gendered and interrelated factors such as location humanitarian aid race cultural norms and current psycho social research that affect the identity and well being of refugee women This volume is destined to a wide audience of scholars students policy makers advocates and service providers interested in new developments and critical practices in domains related to gender and forced migrations Women, Gender, and Human Rights Marjorie Agosín, 2001 II WOMEN AND HEALTH Museums, Refugees and Communities Domenico Sergi, 2021-04-21 Museums Refugees and Communities explores the ways in which museums in Germany The Netherlands and the UK have responded to the complexities and ethical dilemmas involved in discussing the reasons for and issues surrounding contemporary refugee displacements Building upon an ethnographic study carried out in the UK with refugees from the Democratic Republic of Congo the book explores how object led approaches can inspire new ways of thinking about and analysing refugees experiences and European museums work with their communities Enlarging the developing body of research on museums increasing engagement with human rights and focusing in particular on the social cultural and practical dimensions of community engagement practices with refugees the book also aims to inform growing debates on museums as sites of activism Museums Refugees and Communities offers an innovative and interdisciplinary examination of museum work with and about refugees As such it should appeal to researchers academics and students engaged in the study of museums heritage migration ethics community engagement culture sociology and anthropology
