grandmother is sent away to a nursing home she remembers the box buried in the backyard In it are torn pages from a scrapbook a charm necklace and a newspaper article from 1939 about the body of an infant found floating in the Savannah River The necklace s charms tell the story of three friends during the 1930s each charm added during the three months each friend had the necklace and recorded her life in the scrapbook Piper always dismissed her grandmother as not having had a story to tell And now too late Piper finds she might have been wrong Learning to Breathe Karen White,2007-03-06 From the New York Times bestselling author of the Tradd Street novels comes a richly emotional story about a woman who discovers that taking a leap of faith is better than always wondering what might have been Brenna O'Brien doesn't believe in happy endings Not since the love of her life Pierce McGovern left her years ago without a word Now she leads a quiet life surrounded by her four matchmaking sisters running a historic movie theater and collecting old wartime letters But she leaves the letters unopened preferring to imagine their possibilities rather than risk being disappointed Then Pierce comes back to town shattering Brenna's hard earned peace and forcing her to re-examine everything and realize that if she doesn't come to terms with the life she let slip away she may never have the courage to go after the life she wants Mosby's Fighting Parson Peter A.
