Frames of Evil Caroline Joan Picart, David A. Frank, 2006 In Frames of Evil The Holocaust as Horror in American Film Picart and Frank challenge this classic horror frame the narrative and visual borders used to demarcate monsters and the monstrous After examining the way in which directors and producers of the most influential American Holocaust movies default to this Gothic frame they propose that multiple frames are needed to account for evil and genocide

Narrative Causalities Emma Kafalenos, 2006 Narrative Causalities offers both an argument and a methodology The argument is that interpretations of the consequences and causes of events are contextual and that narratives by determining the context in which events are perceived shape interpretations The methodology on which the argument is based is a theory of functions A function in this theory is a position in a causal sequence A set of functions provides a vocabulary to analyze and compare interpretations of the causes and consequences of events in our world in narratives about our world and in fictional narratives

I Know that You Know that I Know George Butte, 2004 In I Know That You Know That I Know Butte explores how stories narrate human consciousness Butte locates a historical shift in the representation of webs of consciousnesses in narrative what he calls deep intersubjectivity and examines the effect this shift has since had on Western literature and culture The author studies narrative practices in two ways one pairing eighteenth and nineteenth century British novels Moll Flanders and Great Expectations for example and the other studying genre practices comedy anti comedy and masquerade in written and film narratives Jane Austen and His Girl Friday for example and Hitchcock's Cary Grant films Butte's second major claim argues for new ways to read representations of human consciousness whether or not they take the form of deep intersubjectivity Phenomenological criticism has lost its credibility in recent years but this book identifies better reading strategies arising out of what the author calls poststructuralist phenomenology grounded largely in the work of the French philosopher Merleau Ponty Butte criticizes the extreme of transcendental idealism first wave phenomenological criticism and cultural materialism when it rules out the study of consciousness He also criticizes the dominant Lacanian framework of much academic film criticism

Narrative Means, Lyric Ends Monique R. Morgan, 2009 How did nineteenth century poets negotiate the complex interplay between two seemingly antithetical modes lyric and narrative Narrative Means Lyric Ends examines the solutions offered by four canonical long poems William Wordsworth's The Prelude Lord Byron's Don Juan Elizabeth Barrett Browning's Aurora Leigh and Robert Browning's The Ring and the Book Monique Morgan argues that each of these texts uses narrative techniques to create lyrical effects effects that manipulate readers experience of time and shape their intellectual emotional and ethical responses To highlight the productive tension between the modes Morgan defines narrative as essentially temporal and sequential and lyric as creating an illusion of simultaneity The poems reinforce their larger narrative strategies she suggests with their figurative language Through her readings of these texts Morgan questions lyric's brevity and associability interrogates retrospection's importance for narrative examines the gendered implications of several genres and determines the dramatic monologue's temporal structure Narrative Means Lyric Ends offers four case studies of the interactions between broad modes and among specific genres changes our aesthetic and ideological assumptions about lyric and narrative expands the domain of narratology and advocates a renewed formalism
