Fresh Air Uniting essays from Oliver's previous books and elsewhere this gem of a collection offers a compelling synthesis of the poet's thoughts on the natural spiritual and artistic worlds The New York Times In the beginning I was so young and such a stranger to myself I hardly existed I had to go out into the world and see it and hear it and react to it before I knew at all who I was what I was what I wanted to be So begins Upstream a collection of essays in which revered poet Mary Oliver reflects on her willingness as a young child and as an adult to lose herself within the beauty and mysteries of both the natural world and the world of literature Emphasizing the significance of her childhood friend Walt Whitman through whose work she first understood that a poem is a temple a place to enter and in which to feel and who encouraged her to vanish into the world of her writing Oliver meditates on the forces that allowed her to create a life for herself out of work and love As she writes I could not be a poet without the natural world Someone else could But not me For me the door to the woods is the door to the temple Upstream follows Oliver as she contemplates the pleasure of artistic labor her boundless curiosity for the flora and fauna that surround her and the responsibility she has inherited from Shelley Wordsworth Emerson Poe and Frost the great thinkers and writers of the past to live thoughtfully intelligently and to observe with passion Throughout this collection Oliver positions not just herself upstream but us as well as she encourages us all to keep moving to lose ourselves in the awe of the unknown and to give power and time to the creative and whimsical urges that live within us The Goldilocks God Guy Collins, 2022-08-22 The Goldilocks God Searching for the via media explores the fertile middle ground between toxic Christianity and militant atheism Can Christianity be intellectually credible Why do our past failures and breakages offer comfort and hope How does the via media of Anglicanism offer tactics for dealing with contemporary challenges and uncertainties Whether exploring mystic Hildegard von Bingen strategic thinker Queen Elizabeth or theologians Jean Luc Marion and Sarah Coakley readers venture into a Trinitarian Goldilocks zone of faith hope and love Guy Collins makes a creative and heartfelt case for a spiritual thermodynamics of trial and error promise and glory Illuminating ancient Christian practice with cutting edge philosophy and theology he reveals the lifelong habits that are just right for encountering the mystery of God The Intersubjective Turn Olen Gunnlaugson, Charles Scott, Heesoon Bai, Edward W. Sarath, 2017-10-11 A first of its kind this book maps out current academic approaches in higher education to second person contemplative education which addresses contemplative experience from an intersubjective perspective Until recently contemplative studies has emphasized a predominantly first person standpoint but the expansion and embrace of second person methods provides a distinctive learning context in which collective wisdom and shared learning can begin to emerge from dialogue among students and groups in the classroom The contributors to this volume leading researchers and practitioners from a variety of institutions and departments examine the theoretical and philosophical foundations of second person contemplative approaches to instruction pedagogy and curricula across various scholarly disciplines Grand Canyon, 2006 Ann Zwinger plumbs the very soul of this majestic place exploring the deserts along the Colorado's banks in

Material Spirit Manuel Asensi, Carl Good, 2013-12-02 The essays in this collection examine philosophical religious and literary or artistic texts using methodologies and insights that have grown out of reflection on literature and art In them the phrase material spirit becomes a point of departure for considering the continuing spectral effects of religious texts and concerns in ways that do not simply call for or assume new or renewed forms of religiosity The writers in this collection seek to examine religion beyond traditional notions of transcendence Their topics range from early Christian religious practices to global climate change Some of the essays explore religious themes or tones in literary texts for example works by Wordsworth Hopkins Proust Woolf and Teresa of Avila Others approach in a literarycritical mood philosophical or para philosophical writers such as Bataille Husserl Derrida and Benjamin Still others treat writers of a more explicitly religious orientation such as Augustine Rosenzweig or Bernard of Clairvaux
