Anthropological Perspectives and Policy Implications of Climate Change Research ,2001 Alternative Pathways to Complexity Lane F. Fargher,Verenice Y. Heredia Espinoza,2016-12-15 Alternative Pathways to Complexity focuses on the themes of architecture economics and power in the evolution of complex societies Case studies from Mesoamerica Asia Africa and Europe examine the relationship between political structures and economic configurations of ancient chiefdoms and states through a framework of comparative archaeology A group of highly distinguished scholars takes up important issues theories and methods stemming from the nascent body of research on comparative archaeology to showcase and apply important theories of households power and how the development of complex societies can be extended and refined Drawing on the archaeological ethnohistorical and ethnographic records the chapters in this volume contain critical investigations on the role of collective action economics and corporate cognitive codes in structuring complex societies Alternative Pathways to Complexity is an important addition to theoretical development and empirical research on Mesoamerica the Old World and cross cultural studies The theoretical implications addressed in the chapters will have broad appeal for scholars grappling with alternative pathways to complexity in other regions as well as those addressing diverse cross cultural research Contributors Sarah B Barber Cynthia L Bedell Christopher S Beekman Frances F Berdan Tim Earle Carol R Ember Gary M Feinman Arthur A Joyce Stephen A Kowalewski Lisa J LeCount Linda M Nicholas Peter N Peregrine Peter Robertshaw Barbara L Stark T L Thurston Deborah Winslow Rita Wright Surplus Christopher T. Morehart,Kristin De Lucia,2015-09-26 The concept of surplus captures the politics of production and also conveys the active material means by which people develop the strategies to navigate everyday life Surplus The Politics of Production and the Strategies of Everyday Life examines how surpluses affected ancient economies governments and households in civilizations across Mesoamerica the Southwest United States the Andes Northern Europe West Africa Mesopotamia and eastern Asia A hallmark of archaeological research on sociopolitical complexity surplus is central to theories of political inequality and institutional finance This book investigates surplus as a macro scalar process on which states or other complex political formations depend and considers how past people differentially positioned based on age class gender ethnicity role and goal produced modified and mobilized their social and physical worlds Placing the concept of surplus at the forefront of archaeological discussions on production consumption power strategy and change this volume reaches beyond conventional ways of thinking about top down or bottom up models and offers a comparative framework to examine surplus generating new questions and methodologies to elucidate the social and political economies of the past Annual Review of Anthropology ,1994-10 Annual compilation of critical articles from all areas of the discipline of anthropology Pastoralism and Development in Africa Andy Catley,Ian Scoones,Jeremy Lind,2013 Once again the Horn of Africa has been in the headlines And once again the news has been bad drought famine conflict hunger suffering and death The finger of blame has been pointed in numerous directions to the changing climate to environmental degradation to overpopulation to geopolitics and conflict to aid agency failures and more But it is not all disaster and catastrophe Many successful development efforts at the margins often remain hidden informal sometimes illegal and rarely in line with standard development prescriptions If we shift our gaze from the capital cities to the regional centres and their hinterlands then a very different perspective emerges These are the places where pastoralists live They have for centuries struggled with drought conflict and famine They are resourceful entrepreneurial and innovative peoples Yet they have been ignored and marginalised by the states that control their territory and the development agencies who are supposed to help them This book argues that while we should not ignore the profound difficulties of creating secure livelihoods in the Greater Horn of Africa there is much to be learned from development successes large and small This book will be of great interest to students and scholars with an interest in development studies and human geography with a particular emphasis on Africa It will also appeal to development policy makers and practitioners

Frontiers Martin Hall,1984 BAR S207 1984 Pastoralist Resilience to Environmental Collapse in East Africa since 1500 Gufu Oba,2024-02-23 This book explores pastoralist farmers approaches to environmental disaster management in East Africa charting their responses and adaptations to famine pandemics natural disasters and historical events Using a dynamic adaptive cycle theoretical framework it uses social memory to reconstruct an event history calendar thus combining social memory and written historical records to reconstruct the adaptive strategies of pastoralists It explores the climate history of the southern Ethiopian and northern Kenyan frontier considering in particular the impact of the colonial period and independence thereafter providing a significant contribution to debates in African environmental history Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Effects of novel environments on domesticated species Xinyi Liu,Giedre Motuzaitė Matuzeviciute,Shinya Shoda,Petra Vaiglova,2023-03-31 Economic Spaces of Pastoral Production and Commodity Systems Richard Le Heron,2016-04-29 Pastoralism as a land use system is under recognized in terms of its contribution to food provision livelihoods as well as to human security This book is the first attempt to explore the dynamics of economic spaces of pastoral production and commodity systems for explicit South and North positionings It develops and applies a new approach in combining agri food market and commodity chain perspectives with livelihood approaches This enables new understandings of re aligning exchange relations between the global south and the global north The case studies presented open up new empirical insights in largely under researched areas such as Afghanistan Chad Tibet and Siberia and very recent changes in industrialized economies with major pastoral sectors The book reveals new evidence and theoretical insights about significant changes in established producer consumer relations in agriculture and food
