The New Normal Amitai Etzioni, 2017-09-08 Amitai Etzioni argues that societies must find a way to balance individual rights and the common good This point of balance may change as new technologies develop the natural and international environments change and new social forces arise Some believe the United States may be unduly short changing individual rights that need to be better protected Specifically should the press be granted more protection Or should its ability to publish state secrets be limited Should surveillance of Americans and others be curtailed Should American terrorists be treated differently from others How one answers these questions Etzioni shows invites a larger fundamental question Where is the proper point of balance between rights and security Etzioni implements the social philosophy liberal communitarianism Its key assumptions are that neither individual rights nor the common good should be privileged that both are core values and that a balance is necessary between them Etzioni argues that we need to find a new balance between our desire for more goods services and affluence particularly because economic growth may continue to be slow and jobs anemic The key question is what makes a good life especially for those whose basic needs are sated narrative of the Atomic Age that calls into question popular memory's acceptance of the conformity thesis and proposes new methods for critiquing the domestic imperative of the period by acknowledging its deep tie to horror Africa's Joola Shipwreck Karen Samantha Barton, 2020-12-10 In 2002 a government owned Senegalese ferry named the Joola capsized in a storm off the coast of The Gambia in a tragedy that killed 1 863 people and left 64 survivors only one of them female The Joola caused more human suffering than the Titanic yet no scholarly research to date has explored the political and environmental conditions in which this African crisis occurred Africa's Joola Shipwreck Causes and Consequences of a Humanitarian Disaster investigates the roots of the Joola shipwreck and its consequences for Senegalese people particularly those living in the rural south Using three summers of field research in Senegal Karen Samantha Barton unravels the geographical forces such as migration colonial cartographies and geographies of the sea that led to this humanitarian disaster and defined its aftermath Barton shows how the Sufi tenet of beautiful optimism shaped community resilience in the wake of the shipwreck despite the repercussions the event had on Senegalese society and space Bait and Switch Julie A. Mertus, 2008-02-19 It has become routine for the US government to invoke human rights to justify its foreign policy decisions and military ventures But this human rights talk has not been supported by a human rights walk Policy makers consistently apply a double standard for human rights norms one the rest of the world must observe but which the US can safely ignore Based on extensive interviews with leading foreign policy makers military officials and human rights advocates Mertus tells the story of how America's attempts to promote human rights abroad have paradoxically undermined those rights in other countries The second edition brings the story up to date including new sections on the second half of the Bush administration and the Iraq War and updates on Afghanistan The first edition of Bait and Switch won the American Political Science Association's 2005 Best Book on Human Rights Beneath the Crust of Culture Howard F. Stein, 2004-01-01 In this book the author presents a pioneering interpretation of culture as constituting a dynamic relationship between the visible crust and the elusive core of social life He meticulously maps the role of the unconscious in shaping much of American life in the late 20th and early 21st centuries He crosses and transcends disciplinary boundaries in studies of September 11 2001 the 1999 Columbine High School massacre the execution of Timothy McVeigh the 1995 Oklahoma City bombing the 1999 Worcester Massachusetts fire and the eruption of hypernationalism and xenophobia in nations and workplaces all as cultural phenomena with a psychodynamic core He shows how the experience of loss in the face of massive social change often leads to equally massive defence against the experience of mourning Beneath the Crust of Culture will be of interest not only for behavioural and social science professionals but also for a lay public interested in understandings of culture deeper than the surface of the news and of official pronouncements The Indo-Pacific: Trump, China, and the New Struggle for Global Mastery Richard Javad Heydarian, 2019-09-25 This book places the presidency of Donald Trump as well as the brewing Sino American Cold War within the broader historical context of American hegemony in Asia which traces its roots to Alfred

Here, There, and Elsewhere Tahseen Shams, 2020-08-04 Challenging the commonly held perception that immigrants lives are shaped exclusively by their sending and receiving countries Here There and Elsewhere breaks new ground by showing how immigrants are vectors of globalization who both produce and experience the interconnectedness of societies not only the societies of origin and destination but also the societies in places beyond Tahseen Shams posits a new concept for thinking about these places that are neither the immigrants homeland nor hostland the elsewhere Drawing on rich ethnographic data interviews and analysis of the social media activities of South Asian Muslim Americans Shams uncovers how different dimensions of the immigrants ethnic and religious identities connect them to different elsewheres in places as far ranging as the Middle East Europe and Africa Yet not all places in the world are elsewheres How a faraway foreign land becomes salient to the immigrant's sense of self depends on an interplay of global hierarchies homeland politics and hostland dynamics Referencing today's 24 hour news cycle and the ways that social media connects diverse places and peoples at the touch of a screen Shams traces how the homeland hostland and elsewhere combine to affect the ways in which immigrants and their descendants understand themselves and are understood by others
