After Kinship:

After Kinship Janet Carsten, 2004 This innovative book takes a look at the anthropology of kinship and the comparative study of relatedness Kinship has historically been central to the discipline of anthropology but what sort of future does it have What is the impact of recent studies of reproductive technologies of gender and of the social construction of science in the West What significance does public anxiety about the family or new family forms in the West have for anthropology's analytic strategies The study of kinship has rested on a distinction between the biological and the social But recent technological developments have made this distinction no longer self-evident What does this imply about the comparison of kinship institutions cross-culturally Janet Carsten gives an approachable view of the past present and future of kinship in anthropology which will be of interest not just to anthropologists but to social scientists generally

The Ethics of Everyday Life Michael Banner, 2014-10-24 The moments in Christ's human life noted in the creeds his conception birth suffering death and burial are events which would likely appear in a syllabus for a course in social anthropology for they are of special interest and concern in human life and also sites of contention and controversy where what it is to be human is discovered constructed and contested In other words these are the occasions for profound and continuing questioning regarding the meaning of human life as controversies to do with IVF abortion euthanasia and the use of bodies or body parts post-mortem plainly indicate Thus the following questions arise how do the instances in Christ's life represent human life and how do these representations relate to present-day cultural norms expectations and newly emerging modes of relationship themselves shaping and framing human life How does the Christian imagination of human life which dwells on and draws from the life of Christ not only articulate its own but also come into conversation with and engage other moral imaginaries of the human Michael Banner argues that consideration of these questions requires study of moral theology therefore he reconceives its nature and tasks and in particular its engagement with social anthropology Drawing from social anthropology and Christian thought and practice from many periods and influenced especially by his engagement in public policy matters including as a member of the UK's Human Tissue Authority Banner aims to develop the outlines of an everyday ethics stretching from before the cradle to after the grave

Adopting the Stranger as Kindred in Deuteronomy Mark R. Glanville, 2018-11-02 Investigate how Deuteronomy incorporates vulnerable displaced people Deuteronomy addresses social contexts of widespread displacement an issue affecting 65 million people today In this book Mark R. Glanville investigates how Deuteronomy fosters the integration of the stranger as kindred into the community of Yahweh According to Deuteronomy displaced people are to be enfolded within the household within the clan and within the nation Glanville argues that Deuteronomy demonstrates the immense creativity that communities may invest in enfolding displaced and vulnerable people Inclusivism is nourished through social law the law of judicial procedure communal feasting and covenant renewal Deuteronomy's call to include the stranger as kindred presents contemporary nation-states with an opportunity and a responsibility to reimagine themselves and their disposition toward displaced strangers today Features Exploration of the relationship of ancient Israel's social history to biblical texts An integrative methodology that brings together literary historical legal sociological comparative literary and theological approaches A thorough study of Israelite identity and ethnicity

Women's Lives after Marriage in Rural Sri Lanka Tharindi Udalagama, 2024-05-31 Drawing on extensive research from a 14 month ethnographic study this book delves into the intricate lives of married women in a rural Sinhala village in Sri Lanka It explores their efforts to uphold community expectations while employing innovative and strategic approaches to navigate ruptures within their marital journeys The chapters progress by dissecting the pivotal gender roles assumed by women in building happy marriages establishing stable households cultivating harmonious homes and achieving effective household management At the heart of this narrative is the concept of homemaking which symbolises not only family life but also social stature The text discusses how the categorisation of homes as good or bad relies on women's conscientious adherence to gender norms Notably the author also looks at the unique practice of married women resorting to sorcery as a means to mitigate the challenges stemming from marital disruptions while remaining aligned with societal gender expectations Throughout chapters systematically investigate the spectrum of opportunities available to these women alongside the constraints they encounter as they endeavour to cultivate successful marriages Overall the book provides profound insights into the complex interplay of married life spotlighting women's astute negotiations of their roles and adept management of ruptures within the framework of established gender norms This book will be of interest to scholars in Gender Studies Anthropology Family Studies and South Asian Studies

Children and Young People Looked After? Queer Kinship Teagan Bradway, Elizabeth Freeman, 2022-08-08 The contributors to this volume assert the importance of queer kinship to queer and trans theory and to kinship theory In a contemporary moment marked by the rising tides of neoliberalism fascism xenophobia and homo and cis nationalism they approach kinship as both a horizon and a source of violence and possibility The contributors challenge dominant theories of kinship that ignore the devastating impacts of chattel slavery settler colonialism and racialized nationalism on the bonds of Black and Indigenous people and people of color Among other topics they examine the blood tie as the legal marker of kin relations the everyday experiences and memories of trans mothers and daughters in

Kinship in Action Andrew Strathern, Pamela J Stewart, 2015-07-02 For courses in Social Organization Kinship and Cultural Ecology Kinship has made a come back in Anthropology Not only is there a line of noted general introductory works and readers in the topic but theoretical discussions have been stimulated both by technological changes in mechanisms of reproduction and by reconsiderations of how to define kinship in the most productive ways for cross cultural comparisons In addition kinship studies have moved away from the minutiae of kin terminological systems and the kinship algebra often associated with these to the broader analysis of processes historical changes and fundamental cultural meanings in which kin relationships are implicated In this changed and changing context both Andrew Strathern and Pamela J Stewart both of the University of Pittsburgh bring together a number of interests and concerns in order to provide pointers for students as well as scholars in this field of study Taking an explicitly processual approach the authors examine definitions of terms such as kinship itself approach the topic in a way that is invariably ethnographic and deploy materials from field areas where they themselves have worked

Visions of Kinship in Medieval Europe Hans Hummer, 2018-04-26 What meaning did human kinship possess in a world regulated by Biblical time committed to the primacy of spiritual relationships and bound by the sinews of divine love In the process of exploring this question Hans Hummer offers a searching re examination of kinship in Europe between late Roman times and the high middle ages the period bridging Europe s primitive past and its modern future Visions of Kinship in Medieval Europe critiques the modernist and Western bio genealogical and functionalist assumptions that have shaped kinship studies since their inception in the nineteenth century when Biblical time collapsed and kinship became a signifier of the essential secularity of history and a method for conceptualizing a deep prehistory guided by autogenous human impulses Hummer argues that this understanding of kinship is fundamentally antagonistic to medieval sentiments and is responsible for the frustrations researchers have encountered as they have tried to identify the famously elusive kin groups of medieval Europe He delineates an alternative ethnographic approach inspired by recent anthropological work that privileges indigenous expressions of kinship and the interpretive potential of native ontologies This study reveals that kinship in the middle ages was not biological primitive or a regulator of social mechanisms nor was it traceable by bio genealogical connections In the Middle Ages kinship signified a sociality that flowed from convictions about the divine source of all things and which wove together families institutions and divinities into an expansive eschatological vision animated by the most righteous principle of love The Traffic in Women's Work Anca Parvulescu, 2022-12-22 Welcome to the European family When East European countries joined the European Union under this banner after 1989 they agreed to the free movement of goods services capital and persons In this book Anca Parvulescu analyzes an important niche in this imagined European kinship the traffic in women or the circulation of East European women in West Europe in marriage and as domestic servants nannies personal attendants and entertainers Analyzing film national policies and an impressive range of work by theorists from Giorgio Agamben to Judith Butler she develops a critical lens through which to think about the transnational continuum of women's work Parvulescu revisits Claude Lévi Strauss's concept of kinship and its rearticulation by second wave feminists particularly Gayle Rubin to show that kinship has traditionally been anchored in the traffic in women Reading recent cinematic texts that help frame this she reveals that in contemporary Europe East European migrant women are exchanged to engage in labor customarily performed by wives within the institution of marriage Tracing a pattern of what she calls Americanization Parvulescu argues that these women thereby become responsible for the labor of reproduction A fascinating cultural study as much about the consequences of the enlargement of the European Union as women's mobility The Traffic in Women's Work questions the foundations of the notion of Europe today Kinship in the Fiction of N. K. Jemisin Berit Åström, Jenny Bonnevier, 2023-01-24 Kinship in the Fiction of N. K. Jemisin Relations of Power and Resistance examines the work of N. K. Jemisin through the lens of critical kinship studies In a world increasingly suffering the effects of climate change currently undergoing a sixth mass extinction and where anti democratic racist and misogynist movements are gaining ground in many societies there is an urgent need to re imagine our most intimate relations and the webs of kinship that form our societies but also connect us to the more than human world The essays in this collection shed new light on the ways in which Jemisin's fiction does such re imaginative work and explores both the contemporary moment and the potential for a future that is other than our present
